The Limits of Science.

Scientific men sometimes forget that the discovery of law is not an adequate solution of the problem of causes.

When all the motions of the heavenly bodies have been reduced to the domination of gravitation, gravitation itself still remains an insoluble problem. Why it is that matter attracts matter, we do not know—perhaps never shall know. Science can throw much light upon the laws that preside over the development of life; but what life is, and what its ultimate cause, we are utterly unable to say.—The mind of man, which can track the course of the comet, and measure the velocity of light, has hitherto proved incapable of explaining the existence of the minutest insect, or the growth of the most humble plant.

In grouping phenomena, in ascertaining their sequence and their analogies, its achievements have been marvelous. In discovering ultimate causes, it has absolutely failed.

An impenetrable mystery lies at the root of every existing thing. The first principle, the dynamic force, the vivifying power, the efficient causes of those successions which we term natural laws, elude the utmost efforts of our research. The scalpel of the anatomist and the analysis of the chemist are here at fault. The microscope, which reveals the traces of all-pervading, all-ordaining intelligence in the minutest globule, supplies no solution of the problem. We know nothing or next to nothing of the relations of mind to matter, either in our own persons or in the world around us. And to suppose that the professor of natural science eliminates the conception of a first cause from creation, by supplying natural explanations, is completely to ignore the sphere and limits to which it is confined.—Lecky's History of Rationalism.

An American Asks the Emperor of Austria to Take a Drink.

A Vienna correspondent of the New York Herald, giving an account of the Austrian emperor's visit to the American department at the Vienna exposition states that his majesty examined the bottles of American wine, "looking at the labels and the gilding and silvered swathings around the necks, and asked their qualities, and whether there was any special variety not grown in Europe. I suppose this question must have inspired one exhibitor from California, who was not, as a free and independent citizen of a land where all are emperors, above taking a drink with his Austrian brother. As it was, he was ready with his gift. There was a golden-necked bottle, in cooling, soothing ice, and a dozen champagne glasses, of Bohemian fineness, and he stood with his knife ready to snap the confining cord, and let the pent-up sun and fatness of California rush out to warm an imperial heart and gladden his gracious eyes. The emperor sauntered along until he came to the display. 'What wine is this?' he said. 'Champagne.' 'It is very beautiful,' he rejoined, referring to the label, we suppose. 'Will your majesty take a glass of Champagne?' said the California freeman in the most affable terms; 'will your majesty test our American wine?' and he raised his glass and put the knife to the cord. Francis Joseph paused a second, looked his imperial American brother full in the face, smiled, and said, "No thank you!" It was rather early in the morning, we fancy, and, again, foreign people do not take liberties with champagne."

Street Loungers' Villainies.

In an editorial reproof of the citizens for "that excess of lazy good nature which permits the election of amiable nonenities to the most important and exacting public trusts," the Springfield (Mass.) Republican uses the following example to enforce its point:

"For more than a year now the streets of Springfield have been unsafe for a woman to walk in. They have been practically captured and held by a gang of miscreants—how numerous we don't know and the police can't tell us—who make it their evening business or recreation, to throw some vile compound upon women's dresses as they pass. They are very impartial in their attentions—rich or poor, the wife of a prominent citizen or the young visitor on her wedding tour—it does not seem to make any difference to them who or what the victim may be. Every now and then we hear of a fresh case, in which a costly dress has been ruined. What we do not hear of is the arrest and punishment of the sneaking wretches who have been thus diverting themselves, for a whole year past, at our expense. It is interesting to know that the authorities detailed special policemen some time ago to watch for them. We suppose they are still watching. Meanwhile the dresses and tempers of our ladies continue to suffer, and Springfield has the humiliation of seeing itself, after all it has paid for police protection, at the mercy of a handful of "tobacco squirters."

The above will apply with equal force to this city as to Springfield. No city of our size can boast of more contemptible sneaks than we can, who are engaged in this same criminal business.—Albany Express.

Not Ready To Die.

The following is no fabrication of an irreverent secular journal, but from the orthodox Memphis Presbyterian: "Traveling in his buggy alone, not long ago, in going to one of his appointments, one of our good brethren in the Presbytery of Memphis overtook a 'foot-pad,' with his carpet-bag in his hand. The roads were muddy, and he was just at the time about entering a miry bottom. With the politeness for which he is noted, he asked the pedestrian—an entire stranger—if he would not take a seat in the buggy, until, at least, they had crossed the mud and the mire. The invitation was readily accepted, and the conversation for a time was free and easy, about things ordinary and general. Presently, however, the good brother, with a view to make the conversation profitable, asked the stranger if he was ready to die? Not knowing the character of the person who had invited him to a seat with him, and misapprehending his meaning and suspecting foul play, he waited not to reply, but sprang from the buggy immediately, and ran for life through slush and water.—The clerical brother, wishing to assure the stranger that he meant no harm, called to him at the top of his voice, to stop! But this only hastened his speed, and, like a scared hare, he ran until beyond hearing and sight. In his hasty flight he left his carpet-bag, which our brother now has in his possession, being the richer for his faithfulness by the addition of a coarse shirt, a pair of thread-bare trowsers, and a little 'backer.'"

A youth of ten years, residing in Binghampton, played so long on a recent afternoon that he did not get home until supper was over, and consequently was told that he could get nothing to eat. Casting one look behind him he started for the door, at the same time remarking, "Mother, I am going to die, and when I am dead I want the doctor to cut me open and look at my stomach.' The mother greatly alarmed, inquired what he meant, when he replied, "I want them to know that I died of starvation." A "stay of proceedings' was ordered, and the boy turned from his evil intentions to the supper table.

A Life of Washington is announced by a Yeddo publisher. This literary novelty is bro't out in no less than forty-four volumes in the Japanese characters, and is profusely illustrated in the highest style of art. Washington is represented in the clothes and fashion of the present day, and with a moustache, carrying a cane, and accompanied by a skye-terrier.—He is gazing at a lady with a train, a Grecian bend, and a hideous water fall. As it is the first attempt of the kind, and as it is a great curiosity in itself, the book would be a great addition to the collection of a bibliomaniac.

"No. 17 Arlington St., London, England. Jan. 6, 1870.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.

CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.

JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopaedia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

"North Shore, S. I., N. Y., Oct. 19, 1869.

Appletons' Cyclopaedia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869.

DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopaedia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value.

The Limits of Science.

Scientific men sometimes forget that the discovery of law is not an adequate solution of the problem of causes.

When all the motions of the heavenly bodies have been reduced to the domination of gravitation, gravitation itself still remains an insoluble problem. Why it is that matter attracts matter, we do not know—perhaps never shall know. Science can throw much light upon the laws that preside over the development of life; but what life is, and what its ultimate cause, we are utterly unable to say.—The mind of man, which can track the course of the comet, and measure the velocity of light, has hitherto proved incapable of explaining the existence of the minutest insect, or the growth of the most humble plant.

In grouping phenomena, in ascertaining their sequence and their analogies, its achievements have been marvelous. In discovering ultimate causes, it has absolutely failed.

An impenetrable mystery lies at the root of every existing thing. The first principle, the dynamic force, the vivifying power, the efficient causes of those successions which we term natural laws, elude the utmost efforts of our research. The scalpel of the anatomist and the analysis of the chemist are here at fault. The microscope, which reveals the traces of all-pervading, all-ordaining intelligence in the minutest globule, supplies no solution of the problem. We know nothing or next to nothing of the relations of mind to matter, either in our own persons or in the world around us. And to suppose that the professor of natural science eliminates the conception of a first cause from creation, by supplying natural explanations, is completely to ignore the sphere and limits to which it is confined.—Lecky's History of Rationalism.

An American Asks the Emperor of Austria to Take a Drink.

A Vienna correspondent of the New York Herald, giving an account of the Austrian emperor's visit to the American department at the Vienna exposition states that his majesty examined the bottles of American wine, "looking at the labels and the gilding and silvered swathings around the necks, and asked their qualities, and whether there was any special variety not grown in Europe. I suppose this question must have inspired one exhibitor from California, who was not, as a free and independent citizen of a land where all are emperors, above taking a drink with his Austrian brother. As it was, he was ready with his gift. There was a golden-necked bottle, in cooling, soothing ice, and a dozen champagne glasses, of Bohemian fineness, and he stood with his knife ready to snap the confining cord, and let the pent-up sun and fatness of California rush out to warm an imperial heart and gladden his gracious eyes. The emperor sauntered along until he came to the display. 'What wine is this?' he said. 'Champagne.' 'It is very beautiful,' he rejoined, referring to the label, we suppose. 'Will your majesty take a glass of Champagne?' said the California freeman in the most affable terms; 'will your majesty test our American wine?' and he raised his glass and put the knife to the cord. Francis Joseph paused a second, looked his imperial American brother full in the face, smiled, and said, "No thank you!" It was rather early in the morning, we fancy, and, again, foreign people do not take liberties with champagne."

Street Loungers' Villainies.

In an editorial reproof of the citizens for "that excess of lazy good nature which permits the election of amiable nonenities to the most important and exacting public trusts," the Springfield (Mass.) Republican uses the following example to enforce its point:

"For more than a year now the streets of Springfield have been unsafe for a woman to walk in. They have been practically captured and held by a gang of miscreants—how numerous we don't know and the police can't tell us—who make it their evening business or recreation, to throw some vile compound upon women's dresses as they pass. They are very impartial in their attentions—rich or poor, the wife of a prominent citizen or the young visitor on her wedding tour—it does not seem to make any difference to them who or what the victim may be. Every now and then we hear of a fresh case, in which a costly dress has been ruined. What we do not hear of is the arrest and punishment of the sneaking wretches who have been thus diverting themselves, for a whole year past, at our expense. It is interesting to know that the authorities detailed special policemen some time ago to watch for them. We suppose they are still watching. Meanwhile the dresses and tempers of our ladies continue to suffer, and Springfield has the humiliation of seeing itself, after all it has paid for police protection, at the mercy of a handful of "tobacco squirters."

The above will apply with equal force to this city as to Springfield. No city of our size can boast of more contemptible sneaks than we can, who are engaged in this same criminal business.—Albany Express.

Not Ready To Die.

The following is no fabrication of an irreverent secular journal, but from the orthodox Memphis Presbyterian: "Traveling in his buggy alone, not long ago, in going to one of his appointments, one of our good brethren in the Presbytery of Memphis overtook a 'foot-pad,' with his carpet-bag in his hand. The roads were muddy, and he was just at the time about entering a miry bottom. With the politeness for which he is noted, he asked the pedestrian—an entire stranger—if he would not take a seat in the buggy, until, at least, they had crossed the mud and the mire. The invitation was readily accepted, and the conversation for a time was free and easy, about things ordinary and general. Presently, however, the good brother, with a view to make the conversation profitable, asked the stranger if he was ready to die? Not knowing the character of the person who had invited him to a seat with him, and misapprehending his meaning and suspecting foul play, he waited not to reply, but sprang from the buggy immediately, and ran for life through slush and water.—The clerical brother, wishing to assure the stranger that he meant no harm, called to him at the top of his voice, to stop! But this only hastened his speed, and, like a scared hare, he ran until beyond hearing and sight. In his hasty flight he left his carpet-bag, which our brother now has in his possession, being the richer for his faithfulness by the addition of a coarse shirt, a pair of thread-bare trowsers, and a little 'backer.'"

A youth of ten years, residing in Binghampton, played so long on a recent afternoon that he did not get home until supper was over, and consequently was told that he could get nothing to eat. Casting one look behind him he started for the door, at the same time remarking, "Mother, I am going to die, and when I am dead I want the doctor to cut me open and look at my stomach." The mother greatly alarmed, inquired what he meant, when he replied, "I want them to know that I died of starvation." A "stay of proceedings" was ordered, and the boy turned from his evil intentions to the supper table.

A Life of Washington is announced by a Yeddo publisher. This literary novelty is bro't out in no less than forty-four volumes in the Japanese characters, and is profusely illustrated in the highest style of art. Washington is represented in the clothes and fashion of the present day, and with a moustache, carrying a cane, and accompanied by a skye-terrier.—He is gazing at a lady with a train, a Grecian bend, and a hideous water fall. As it is the first attempt of the kind, and as it is a great curiosity in itself, the book would be a great addition to the collection of a bibliomaniac.

"No. 17 Arlington St., London, England. Jan. 6, 1870.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopædia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopædia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopædia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.

CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopædia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.

JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

My DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopædia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

"North Shore, S. I., N. Y., Oct. 19, 1869.

Appletons' Cyclopædia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869.

DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopædia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value.

Kingston, Tuursday Morning, Sept. 4.

We shall be really glad if what is said latest about Senator Hipple-Mitchell proves to be correct, and he is really able to show that he has not committed bigamy, but married his second wife in good faith and after a full divorce. We have enough in the woman line from Matt. Carpenter not to desire any more Senatorial eccentricities.

Already we are telegraphed that some people are talking about asking Congress to amend the law abolishing the franking privilege, the special iniquity asked being the free transmission of letters on public business addressed to government officials. Now, gentlemen, please hold up! This payment of postage is just as broad as it is long. It costs the people just as much one way as it does the other, but the Postal Department no longer bears the burdens of other departments.

The Schoonmaker and Cooper fee case is up again, there having been an examination yesterday. It will be continued to-day, and some very important testimony will probably come before the court. Tax-payers will bear of considerable to their disadvantage during this trial, and they had better keep close watch of it. It will be amply reported in our columns. Mr. Marius Schoonmaker was examined yesterday, but didn't unbosom himself of anything specially important, not enough to even excite another letter on patriotism from McKinstry.

We really pity Mosby. The poor fellow has been having a good time lately, but now he's catching it and it will be piled on every day worse and worse. Harlan's paper as soon as he jumped over into the Democratic party inquired with deep indignation if he was to be allowed to do as he pleased, which considering that "this is a free country," is an odd question for even the sainted Iowan to ask.—And now the Albany Journal has discovered that as Mosby was a bushwhacker in war he is a guerilla in politics. It is astonishing what discoveries will sometimes be made by a political newspaper.

The statement of the Erie Railway will go very far toward lifting the distrust that has for many years hung over that company as a financial concern. When a company that has been going to the dogs for years announces that it has recovered the neat little sum of eight millions and more of cash, financiers understand the vast difference between that condition and having it in the pockets of plunderers. Other large amounts are on their way to the coffers of the company. The state and nation have each lost large sums in pretty much the same way, and they could take a hint from President Watson, agreeably surprising the taxpayers with the result. But Watson carries with him a proposition that will stagger European capitalists a little, it being nothing less than a request for the small loan of forty millions. The necessity for the additional track and the narrow-guaging of the road which this is to pay for, is patent enough, and it is hoped Watson will succeed.

The fate of the Vienna Exposition conveys lessons which may well be committed to memory. From first to last the main idea seems to have been to make as much money as possible, the desire to make a grand and worthy exhibition of the products of all nations, at least with the Viennese if not with the managers, being secondary. To this end the Vienna hotel keepers swindled their guests by outrageous charges, and the commonest necessities cost three and four times their real worth. Then there are intimations that the Austrian managers in charge were not strictly "on the square," and one firm at least won't take its medal for this reason. So taking it all in all the Exposition, which had every prospect for brilliant success, has been a decided farce.—The first lesson is—don't have your international expositions unwieldy; the second, don't try to swindle those who patronize them; the third, don't try to make money out of them; and if they can't be run without these accompaniments, don't have them at all.

A New York paper pokes a little fun at the yachtsmen of that vicinity and recommends them hereafter to try cruising on the Central Park pond, as they would then avoid the great objection to ocean cruises—sea-sickness. Of course the point of this joke is that men claiming to be yachtsmen or sailors should be subject to sea-sickness at all. It is well known, however, that the so-called yachtsmen are no sailors, for though they own natty craft whose regattas form a prominent feature in the summer sporting news, there probably are not half a dozen who know the bow-sprit from the jib-boom. The real sailor work is done by men hired and paid for that purpose and young Bennett and his sporting associates have really no more to do with the sailing of their vessels than a minister of the gospel with running a horse-race—only we fear the moral simile won't hold out. It's fine fun to own a yacht, however, and the nobby fellows with lots of loose change probably enjoy it just as well as if they did know something about navigation.

A Worthy Charity.

Charles L. Brace is writing very interesting letters to the New York Times from Minnesota, where he has been distributing among the residents some of the waifs his Society—the Children's Aid Society of New York—collect and provide for. This is a very good work, and we commend it to our readers. While the youngsters are not much needed in the large city and run the great risk of being spoiled and ruined, in the west they are needed and eagerly sought for adoption into the families both of the townspeople and the farmers. In a little western city we saw the small handbills Mr. Brace had posted on the streets giving notice that he would be in town on a certain day with nineteen boys for adoption, and were informed that the party was in town scarcely ten minutes before every one of the boys had found a new father and was hurrying off to a new home. Those who adopt them are obliged to promise them a good common-school education and clothe them decently. We also noticed that the boys were very particular, when speaking of their new protectors, to call them "father," as if very glad to use the title to somebody. In Mr. Brace's description of the reception of his children we recognize the names of two boys, Fred. and Johnny, who were domiciled in the family we visited and had found excellent homes, and very content and happy they were too. If any wealthy people want to do good to poor children they can find no better way than by putting the Children's Aid Society in funds to enable them to transport more children from the streets to the west, where they will have the best of help in becoming good citizens.

The Minnesota Farmers.

There has been considerable curiosity as to what would be the character of the Farmers' Convention at Owatonna. The State papers of both parties preceding the event were in a twitter of anxiety about it, but became measurably calm as one of the Granges that had taken some stock in the movement received notice from headquarters that it was against the rules of the Order to engage in political affairs. But the Grangers have found a way to get around such a trifling obstacle as that, and as Farmers' Clubs are quite as well organized for political purposes as they are as Grangers for social and commercial. As organization is as essential in political movements as Demosthenes considered action in oratory, they are really a formidable political body so far they choose to go.

The character of the convention at Owatonna, though called together in a quite informal way, was good, and sufficiently important and representative, besides being decidedly positive, to excite a lively interest in every politician in the Northwest, as this is the first real political demonstration by the farmers and is undoubtedly only the forerunner of still more formidable movements in States where Granges are more numerous. The Minnesota Republicans will probably feel before the week is out that they threw down a very unwise challenge when they put in nomination a ticket upon which the great farming interest, now so greatly excited and interested, had not a single representative.—Besides that their candidate for State Treasurer is in full sympathy with the ring that has caused a big deficiency in the treasury and even imperilled the school fund.

The platform is a very positive one and uses the plainest language. It takes the very broad ground that government cannot alienate its sovereignty to any corporation, and they will not vote for any man who will not pledge himself to the abrogation of all charters to corporations using them to the detriment of the public welfare. This as it stands in an attack upon vested rights, and cannot be assented to without provision for reimbursement of value in the event of the assumption of property.—On "back-pay" it is very emphatic, and also on the increase of salaries, and wants the Credit Mobiliers punished as criminals, and besides considers the fees of public officers. In all these the convention is as sound as a nut. The other planks are of a more or less local application.

This convention will undoubtedly have a very marked influence upon Minnesota politics, and as a first gun its voice will be heard in every Northwestern if not also every Western state.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The vacationizing New York pastors have returned, the churches have been reopened, and the fashionable religious season has fully commenced.

—Something still more emphatic and severe than McKenzie's raid into Mexico is required to put a stop to the cattle stealing on the Texan border. Better move some of the Modoc exterminators down there to exterminate the "greasers."

—Some idea of the gigantic capacity of the Erie Canal may be judged from the estimate of the Buffalo Commercial, which puts its carrying capacity at 225,000,000 bushels of grain in 220 days.

—Beecher has a great many isms, but he's just the man to make others enjoy themselves. He has kept the White Mountains people in the very best of humor. It seems to us a very good business for a minister to engage in.

—The Cuban republican authorities want their brave parlor knights, who have been making heroes of themselves by living at fashionable hotels and lounging about the country having a good time, to come home and take a hand in the real fighting going on there. Among the rest is "Gen." W. A. C. Ryan, the military-looking bummer whom many of our readers know by sight. If the Cuban government would draw all such chaps out of the country and set them to work or fight it would be a great benefit to us.

—Mary Jane Wade is making a goose of herself in reopening the suit for breach of promise against the heirs of ex-Mayor Kalbfleisch. The public generally has made up its mind that the sturdy old Dutchman did right in "sacking" her and we doubt if she would ever recover a penny in damages. But we are charitably inclined to believe that Mary Jane is acting according to her lawyer's advice and not following the dictum of common sense. What's the use of dying if a man can't get rid of breach of promise suits thereby?

—Scranton is having a disgraceful squabble between two rival school boards. The only cause for contention seems to be the matter of appointments and for this the whole place is in an uproar and the schools demoralized. Fortunately most of the wrangling has been done during the summer vacation, so that the schools have not suffered as much as they otherwise would, but as it is a great injury has been done. The citizens have at last grown weary of the senseless quarrel and both boards have been ejected. Such unseemly differences should be promptly squelched.

—Poor Beau Hickman was one of a class of beings whose existence is a study to the observers of human nature. With the qualifications of mind and heart that would, properly exercised, have won him an honorable if not a prominent position, be debased them to a use which rendered his life of as little—yes, less—account as the gaudy butterfly. With brains, fair accomplishments, the manners of a gentleman and wide acquaintance among the notabilities of the nation, he died a pauper after having spent his life in attempting to demonstrate the unworthy and unmanly theory that the world owed him a living. Fortunately there are few Beau Hickmans in this country.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—The President, Vice President and the entire Cabinet are away from Washington.

—Ben Butler says the Springfield Republican isn't half as virulent as it was when it was a Republican paper.

—Senator Morton says that draw-poker is becoming one of the lost arts at Washington.

—Prince Plon-Plon Napoleon claims recognation as a general of division in the French army.

—Charles O'Conor has been employed by the Potomac Ferry Company to defend them in the prosecution for the Wawasset disaster.

—John Hipple Mitchell, or Mitchell Hipple, or whatever his name is, the Oregon Senator, is to publish a statement giving the truth, as he claims, about his affairs, including his domestic difficulty.

—It is reported that some of the New York Aldermen claim that Mayor Havemeyer offered them inducements, in the way of political patronage, to vote for confirming his appointments.

—A Washington dispatch says the Treasury Department has under consideration the question of the means whereby the banks now believed to be aiding the gold conspirators can be detected and punished.

—Godfrey has turned up as a candidate, and challenges Gen. Butler to a joint discussion.

—Prince Arthur had a narrow escape from drowning at Ironville on the 19th ult., while bathing.

—An accident on the Luxemburgh Railway resulted in the death of eight and the wounding of fifteen.

—It is said cholera has been communicated to the troops at Havre by German emigrants on their way to the United States.

—Boston is troubled with the seamen's boarding house outrages. Foreign consuls are moving in the matter.

—George S. Redington, an Erie employee at Port Jervis, has been arrested for mobilierizing $3,500 of the company's funds.

—The Sunday law don't seem to be very strictly enforced in New York, as eighty open rumshops were counted in one precinct on Sunday last.

—The Pope has written a letter congratulating Count Chambord on his chances for the throne of France.

—A mason who was a witness in the fallen building investigation in New York says $5 spent in bracing the walls would have prevented their fall and saved eight lives.

—An Englishman was charged $13 by a New York hackman for carrying his baggage to a hotel. He thought it exorbitant and went with the hackman to a police station, when the Justice told him the fare was $3.

HALIFAX, Sept. 3.—Brown has agreed to Biglin's proposal for a race at Halifax three days after the St. Johns regatta and has signed articles and forwarded them with the necessary money for deposit to New York to bind the agreement. The race will probably take place on the 20th inst.

THE WEST INDIES.

The Virginius Once More.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 27.—The steamer Virginius is still here, but it is evidently preparing for another trip to Cuba. The Atlas from New York has, it is said, brought her a new Captain. The United States steamer Canandaigua still lies here with cases of chagres fever, not yellow fever, on board. The number of cases are diminishing daily. As soon as recruited she will return to Aspinwall.

CONFLAGRATION IN THE WOODS.

Terrible Fire in Maine.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 3.—A terrible fire is raging in the western part of East Surrey in a piece of woodland. A large force of men are fighting the flames, but if the high winds continue a great number of dwelling houses will be burned, as the wells are all dry and hardly any water is to be had.

PENNSYLVANIA.

A Grand Odd Fellows' Pic-Nic.

MINNEQUA SPRINGS, Pa., Sept. 3.—The Odd Fellows of northern Pennsylvia and southern New York united in a grand pic-nic here today. There were over 8,000 people present. Addresses were made by eminent speakers from New York and Philadelphia.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Anti-Prohibition Meeting---More Butler Delegates.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—A procession and mass meeting was held to-night under the auspices of the Boston Protective Union, with the object to repeal the prohibitory law. The meeting was very large, enthusiastic and orderly.

The Republicans of Charlestown to-day elected a full Butler delegation, numbering 19.

A THIEF CAUGHT.

His Examination at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 3.—F. C. Millwood, who was arrested in this city yesterday on a charge of fraudulently obtaining $2,000 from the Gould Manufacturing Company of Seneca Falls, N. Y., some months since, had a hearing before Justice Caffray this morning. The secretary of the company was present and made a statement of the facts. The prisoner waived a further investigation and was committed to await a requisition from the Governor of New York.

AQUATIC SPORTS.

The Canada International Regatta.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—At the international regatta here to-day the champion flag of the lake, the Governor General's medal and $300 for yachts over a course of thirty miles was won by the yacht Lady Stanley, but owing to the misplacement of a buoy the race will probably be declared off.

The four-oared amateur race was won by the Dominion Club, the Argonauts breaking their rudder. No professionals entered for the $750 prize for four-oared boats.

THE BROOKLYN STEAL.

Rodman in Suspense.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Rodman is still in jail at Brooklyn. He says he is surprised that certain friends have not yet bailed him out.—His bondsmen and those of City Treasurer Sprague gave their individual notes to the Comptroller of Brooklyn to-day, payable January first, to secure the city against loss.

Mayor Powell of Brooklyn is reported to have said this morning that unless Treasurer Sprague resigns he will cause him to be suspended and indicted as a defaulter within forty-eight hours.

CAR BUILDERS IN COUNCIL.

Meeting at Albany.

ALBANY, Sept. 3.—A meeting of car builders was held at West Albany to consider the pattern of an oil box and jaw for the standard car axle adopted at the Boston Car Builders' Convention last June. There were present Messrs. F. Childs of the Great Western Railway of Canada, George R. Bently of the Norwich & Worcester Railroad, F. D. Adams of the Boston & Albany Railroad, W. E. Chamberlain and W. R. Slocum of the same road, Enos Varney of the Fitchburgh Railroad, William Johnson of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad, Joseph Jones of the same road, L. Geary of the New York & Harlem and Geo. Hackett of New Jersey. The plans proposed by Joseph Jones of the New York Central, with some slight modification, were adopted.

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS.

The Platform and State Ticket.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 3.—The Democratic Convention has completed the state ticket as follows: For Lieutenant Governor, Wm. L. Smith of Springfield; Secretary of State, Benjamin F. Miller of Williamstown; Treasurer, Nathan Clark of Lynn; Auditor, Waldo Coburn of Dedham; Attorney General, C. Osgood Morse of Northampton.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 3.—The platform adopted by the Democratic Convention substantially rehearses the Ohio platform with numerous additions, chiefly of local application. One resolution accuses the Republican party of seduction of Democratic members of Congress to corrupt schemes of the Republican party to rob the people of their money. Upon the labor question the convention resolves that the time has now arrived for regulating the hours of labor in manufacturing establishments to ten hours for a day's and sixty hours for a week's work for women and children and that this convention pledges itself to support such legislation as will secure the enactment of such a law.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

Call for a Meeting at Utica.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—At a meeting of the Democratic State General Committee held to-night, at which nineteen delegates were present, a call by a unanimous vote was issued for holding the Democratic State Convention at Utica on October 1st.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The following is the text for the Democratic State Convention:

The Democratic-Republican electors of the State of New York and all others who favor the restoration of pure and economical government, municipal, state and federal, and who condemn monopoly and centralization are requested to elect one delegate from each Assembly district to a State Convention to be held at Utica, on Wednesday, the first day of October next, at 12 o'clock, noon, to nominate candidates for state officers and to transact such other business as may properly come before the Convention.

THE UNIVERSALISTS.

State Convention at Lockport.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Sept. 3.—The State Convention of Universalists assembled in this city yesterday. The convention is well attended and unusual interest is manifested. At the opening of the session at the Church of the Redeemer yesterday morning the following officers were elected: President, Rev. E. W. Crowell, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Vice President, Rev. L. J. Fletcher, of Buffalo; Secretary, Rev. C. C. Fluhrer; Session Clerk, Rev. James Vincent.

Religious services were held last evening and this morning. To-night a closing and general congratulatory meeting will be held at Hodge's Opera House.

LOCKPORT, Sept. 3.—An interesting session of the Universalists' State Convention was continued to-day. At the morning session Rev. J. M. Atwood, of New York, delivered a sermon. This afternoon Mrs. C. A. Saul, of the Woman's Centenary Association, made an address. Messrs. Martin Fletcher, Geo. Robinson, Rev. L. F. Fletcher and A. E. Kilby were appointed trustees of Lawrence University, at Canton, N. Y. D. D. T. Marshall, of New York, was elected Treasurer for the coming year. A large public meeting is being held in Hodge's Opera House this evening. The convention continues to-morrow.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

Heavy Sentences.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Robert Reed and John Wild, negroes, who robbed and nearly murdered a farmer on the Fourth of July near Flatbush, were sentenced twenty and ten years in State Prison respectively.

DISTINGUISHED FOREIGN VISITORS.

Rev. Newman Hall, Prof. Leathes, Baron Sacken, Hon. Wm. M. Fleiss, Lord Skilmersdale, Revs. J. C. Harrison and R. C. Hall from Europe, and Sir John Grant, Governor of Jamaica from Kingston, arrived here today.

THE PERUVIAN LANDSLIDE.

Peruvian advices confirm the previously reported immense landslide which dammed up the River Rimac. Nine lives were lost. Fears of its breaking away and an inundation of the city of Lima and surroundings have been partially dissipated, the water having risen to the top of the dam and is flowing steadily over.

RUMORED CUSTOM HOUSE CHANGES.

Another report is current that radical changes are soon to be made in the force at the Custom House. It is stated that Collector Arthur has submitted a plan for a complete reorganization of the force which will materially advance the promptness and efficiency of the system and be of great benefit to the mercantile public. The plan is believed to meet the sanction of the Secretary of the Treasury.

THE PRESIDENT POSTED ON LOUISIANA.

President Grant was to-day visited by Secretary Richardson and Lieut. Gov. Pinchback of Louisiana. The latter held a long conference with the President relative to affairs in Louisiana and says the President now fully understands the status of the political situation there.

EFFECT OF THE BOND FORGERIES.

The effect of the recent forgeries has been to lead to such a close scrutiny of bonds of railroads as to almost stop negotiations for such paper. An officer of the Stock Exchange to-day stated the other two parties known to be engaged in the forgeries are expected to be arrested by to-morrow. He also stated that these bonds had been in circulation since July.

VERDICT REGARDING THE FALLEN BUILDING.

The Coroner's jury investigating the cause of the fall of the building in West Eleventh street a short time ago, by which seven men were killed or fatally injured, to-day rendered a verdict of gross negligence of the contractors, John W. Crawford, Jesse Newman and Michael Pfortner, in not properly bracing the westerly wall when removing the timbers from said building during its construction. They recommend that the building inspectors of the Department of Buildings should be increased so that one could be assigned to each ward in the city. John W. Crawford and Jesse Newman were each bailed in $5,000. Pfortner was held in $2,000 bail.

ANOTHER DIAMOND SEIZURE.

To-night eight large diamonds, said to be worth $40.000, were seized from Messrs. Maurice & Joseph Parreryers, from England by steamer Adriatic on Sunday last, on the ground of smuggling them into the country and offering them for sale to a jeweler. They also tendered them to a Custom House officer, not knowing his position. They state that they intended them for their own wear.

ACCIDENT TO A RIVER BOAT.

The day boat from Albany to-day broke down in her machinery and was detained five hours at Stony Point. The passengers arrived here 10 o'clock to night. The officers wouldn't state the cause of the accident.

THE CREEDMOOR RIFLE RANGE.

The Directors of the National Rifle Association met to-day and made arrangements for the first annual match of the Association at Creedmoor, October 8th. Orange Judd, of the Agriculturist, offered $750 as a prize to members of the press. Other prizes offered by those not members of the Association amount to $6,200. The members offer $1,400 in cash, and in badges $1,400. The badges number fifty. Nine are gold, thirteen silver and twenty-eight bronze. Adjutant General Rathbone, from Albany, yesterday inspected the targets at Creedmoor and for the state offered $500 in prizes to regiments throughout the state—$100 to each division. He personally offers $100 as a prize. Col. Scoble, of the Ontario Rifle Association, Toronto, will attend with fifty Canadian sharpshooters.

THE TRANSPORTATION QUESTION.

Meeting of the Legislative Committee.

SARATOGA, Sept. 3.—The legislative joint committee on routes of transportation met here to-day. There were present Messrs. Lewis, Baker and D. P. Wood of the Senate committee and Messrs. Prince, Batcheller, Alberger, Weed, Fort and C. G. Cornell of the Assembly. Mr. Lewis was made chairman and L. Bradford Prince Secretary. A resolution was adopted inviting the United States Senate Committee to visit three routes of transportation, viz.: via Champlain, Erie and Oswego canals and recommending that the committee proceed by way of Lake Champlain to Oswego and thence to Buffalo. The committee adjourned to meet in New York on Friday, September 12th, to hold a consultation with the Congressional committee at that place and time. Telegrams were received from Messrs. Opdyke and Husted of the committee regarding their inability to attend the meeting.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Elmira made a Free Delivery Post Office.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The Post Office Department orders that Elmira, N. Y., be made a free delivery office and authorizes four carriers at a salary of six hundred dollars each.

THE BRUNOT-CROW TREATY.

The so-called Brunot-Crow treaty, to which name the western papers take so much objection, is simply an agreement entered into by commissioners appointed under a special act of Congress to obtain for the public use a portion of the lands which had been but a short time before guaranteed to the Crows by the United States. This agreement, which is of the same nature as is usually made with individuals or companies in cases of sales to the government, requires ratification by both the Senate and House of Representatives before it becomes binding, while treaties are acted upon by the Senate alone. Consequently it is not affected by the act forbidding treaties with Indians.

THE WAWASSET OWNERS TO BE PROSECUTED.

The Acting Solicitor of the Treasury this afternoon sent to Judge Fisher, United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, the evidence and report in the Wawasset investigation and instructed him to institute the necessary suits against any and all persons who have incurred a penalty or forfeiture growing out of the navigation or destruction of this vessel and for the enforcement of which the United States can be made a party or is interested.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For the Middle States and lower lake region fresh and brisk southeast or southwest winds, cloudy weather and rain.

—Hudson Taylor keeps the Poughkeepsie editors in good humor by taking them sailing on his pretty little steam yacht Bessie.

—A lot of rowdies drew revolvers on a party of ladies and gentlemen at a Scranton camp meeting, but no one was killed.

—Jacob Odell has been appointed cashier of the First National Bank of Tarrytown, in place of the suicide Rosenquest. He was formerly Vice President.

—A special train of twelve cars and an engine has been procured for the excursion of the Margaretville, Lumberville, New Kingston, Griffin's Corners, Halcott, Red Kill and Pine Hill Sabbath Schools, which is to take place on Thursday, September 11th, 1873, over the N. Y., K. & S. R. R.

—Mr. Benjamin Higgs of Glenham, better known as the "Swamp Angel," was on trial at Poughkeepsie last week, charged with attempting to set fire, some time ago, to a barn of the Glenham Company. The jury disagreed, nine being for acquital and three for conviction.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE—

The Prospect Hill Farm.

The subscriber being desirous of retiring from active life as a cultivator of the soil, would offer for sale his farm on which he now resides, situated in the City of Kingston, about ten minutes' walk from the Post Office, containing forty five acres of choice land. This place is beautifully situated, presenting the finest view of the mountains and surrounding country in the city. On this farm there are a large number of sites for buildings, commanding magnificent views that cover a large scope of the surrounding country. This property, lying as it does in close proximity to the central part of the city, must necessarily soon be in strong demand for the erection of private residences. There can be found no better site for a Hotel to accommodate summer boarders than on this property. Title indisputable. Terms accommodating.

Kingston, Thursday Morning, Sept. 4.

We shall be really glad if what is said latest about Senator Hipple-Mitchell proves to be correct, and he is really able to show that he has not committed bigamy, but married his second wife in good faith and after a full divorce. We have enough in the woman line from Matt. Carpenter not to desire any more Senatorial eccentricities.

Already we are telegraphed that some people are talking about asking Congress to amend the law abolishing the franking privilege, the special iniquity asked being the free transmission of letters on public business addressed to government officials. Now, gentlemen, please hold up! This payment of postage is just as broad as it is long. It costs the people just as much one way as it does the other, but the Postal Department no longer bears the burdens of other departments.

The Schoonmaker and Cooper fee case is up again, there having been an examination yesterday. It will be continued to-day, and some very important testimony will probably come before the court. Tax-payers will hear of considerable to their disadvantage during this trial, and they had better keep close watch of it. It will be amply reported in our columns. Mr. Marius Schoonmaker was examined yesterday, but didn't unbosom himself of anything specially important, not enough to even excite another letter on patriotism from McKinstry.

We really pity Mosby. The poor fellow has been having a good time lately, but now he's catching it and it will be piled on every day worse and worse. Harlan's paper as soon as he jumped over into the Democratic party inquired with deep indignation if he was to be allowed to do as he pleased, which considering that "this is a free country," is an odd question for even the sainted Iowan to ask.—And now the Albany Journal has discovered that as Mosby was a bushwhacker in war he is a guerilla in politics. It is astonishing what discoveries will sometimes be made by a political newspaper.

The statement of the Erie Railway will go very far toward lifting the distrust that has for many years hung over that company as a financial concern. When a company that has been going to the dogs for years announces that it has recovered the neat little sum of eight millions and more of cash, financiers understand the vast difference between that condition and having it in the pockets of plunderers. Other large amounts are on their way to the coffers of the company. The state and nation have each lost large sums in pretty much the same way, and they could take a hint from President Watson, agreeably surprising the taxpayers with the result. But Watson carries with him a proposition that will stagger European capitalists a little, it being nothing less than a request for the small loan of forty millions. The necessity for the additional track and the narrow-guaging of the road which this is to pay for, is patent enough, and it is hoped Watson will succeed.

The fate of the Vienna Exposition conveys lessons which may well be committed to memory. From first to last the main idea seems to have been to make as much money as possible, the desire to make a grand and worthy exhibition of the products of all nations, at least with the Viennese if not with the managers, being secondary. To this end the Vienna hotel keepers swindled their guests by outrageous charges, and the commonest necessities cost three and four times their real worth. Then there are intimations that the Austrian managers in charge were not strictly "on the square," and one firm at least won't take its medal for this reason. So taking it all in all the Exposition, which had every prospect for brilliant success, has been a decided farce.—The first lesson is—don't have your international expositions unwieldy; the second, don't try to swindle those who patronize them; the third, don't try to make money out of them; and if they can't be run without these accompaniments, don't have them at all.

A New York paper pokes a little fun at the yachtsmen of that vicinity and recommends them hereafter to try cruising on the Central Park pond, as they would then avoid the great objection to ocean cruises—sea-sickness. Of course the point of this joke is that men claiming to be yachtsmen or sailors should be subject to sea-sickness at all. It is well known, however, that the so-called yachtsmen are no sailors, for though they own natty craft whose regattas form a prominent feature in the summer sporting news, there probably are not half a dozen who know the bow-sprit from the jib-boom. The real sailor work is done by men hired and paid for that purpose and young Bennett and his sporting associates have really no more to do with the sailing of their vessels than a minister of the gospel with running a horse-race—only we fear the moral simile won't hold out. It's fine fun to own a yacht, however, and the nobby fellows with lots of loose change probably enjoy it just as well as if they did know something about navigation.

A Worthy Charity.

Charles L. Brace is writing very interesting letters to the New York Times from Minnesota, where he has been distributing among the residents some of the waifs his Society—the Children's Aid Society of New York—collect and provide for. This is a very good work, and we commend it to our readers. While the youngsters are not much needed in the large city and run the great risk of being spoiled and ruined, in the west they are needed and eagerly sought for adoption into the families both of the townspeople and the farmers. In a little western city we saw the small handbills Mr. Brace had posted on the streets giving notice that he would be in town on a certain day with nineteen boys for adoption, and were informed that the party was in town scarcely ten minutes before every one of the boys had found a new father and was hurrying off to a new home. Those who adopt them are obliged to promise them a good common-school education and clothe them decently. We also noticed that the boys were very particular, when speaking of their new protectors, to call them "father," as if very glad to use the title to somebody. In Mr. Brace's description of the reception of his children we recognize the names of two boys, Fred. and Johnny, who were domiciled in the family we visited and had found excellent homes, and very content and happy they were too. If any wealthy people want to do good to poor children they can find no better way than by putting the Children's Aid Society in funds to enable them to transport more children from the streets to the west, where they will have the best of help in becoming good citizens.

The Minnesota Farmers.

There has been considerable curiosity as to what would be the character of the Farmers' Convention at Owatonna. The State papers of both parties preceding the event were in a twitter of anxiety about it, but became measurably calm as one of the Granges that had taken some stock in the movement received notice from headquarters that it was against the rules of the Order to engage in political affairs. But the Grangers have found a way to get around such a trifling obstacle as that, and as Farmers' Clubs are quite as well organized for political purposes as they are as Grangers for social and commercial. As organization is as essential in political movements as Demosthenes considered action in oratory, they are really a formidable political body so far they choose to go.

The character of the convention at Owatonna, though called together in a quite informal way, was good, and sufficiently important and representative, besides being decidedly positive, to excite a lively interest in every politician in the Northwest, as this is the first real political demonstration by the farmers and is undoubtedly only the forerunner of still more formidable movements in States where Granges are more numerous. The Minnesota Republicans will probably feel before the week is out that they threw down a very unwise challenge when they put in nomination a ticket upon which the great farming interest, now so greatly excited and interested, had not a single representative.—Besides that their candidate for State Treasurer is in full sympathy with the ring that has caused a big deficiency in the treasury and even imperilled the school fund.

The platform is a very positive one and uses the plainest language. It takes the very broad ground that government cannot alienate its sovereignty to any corporation, and they will not vote for any man who will not pledge himself to the abrogation of all charters to corporations using them to the detriment of the public welfare. This as it stands in an attack upon vested rights, and cannot be assented to without provision for reimbursement of value in the event of the assumption of property.—On "back-pay" it is very emphatic, and also on the increase of salaries, and wants the Credit Mobiliers punished as criminals, and besides considers the fees of public officers. In all these the convention is as sound as a nut. The other planks are of a more or less local application.

This convention will undoubtedly have a very marked influence upon Minnesota politics, and as a first gun its voice will be heard in every Northwestern if not also every Western state.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The vacationizing New York pastors have returned, the churches have been reopened, and the fashionable religious season has fully commenced.

—Something still more emphatic and severe than McKenzie's raid into Mexico is required to put a stop to the cattle stealing on the Texan border. Better move some of the Modoc exterminators down there to exterminate the "greasers."

—Some idea of the gigantic capacity of the Erie Canal may be judged from the estimate of the Buffalo Commercial, which puts its carrying capacity at 225,000,000 bushels of grain in 220 days.

—Beecher has a great many isms, but he's just the man to make others enjoy themselves. He has kept the White Mountains people in the very best of humor. It seems to us a very good business for a minister to engage in.

—The Cuban republican authorities want their brave parlor knights, who have been making heroes of themselves by living at fashionable hotels and lounging about the country having a good time, to come home and take a hand in the real fighting going on there. Among the rest is "Gen." W. A. C. Ryan, the military-looking bummer whom many of our readers know by sight. If the Cuban government would draw all such chaps out of the country and set them to work or fight it would be a great benefit to us.

—Mary Jane Wade is making a goose of herself in reopening the suit for breach of promise against the heirs of ex-Mayor Kalbfleisch. The public generally has made up its mind that the sturdy old Dutchman did right in "sacking" her and we doubt if she would ever recover a penny in damages. But we are charitably inclined to believe that Mary Jane is acting according to her lawyer's advice and not following the dictum of common sense. What's the use of dying if a man can't get rid of breach of promise suits thereby?

—Scranton is having a disgraceful squabble between two rival school boards. The only cause for contention seems to be the matter of appointments and for this the whole place is in an uproar and the schools demoralized. Fortunately most of the wrangling has been done during the summer vacation, so that the schools have not suffered as much as they otherwise would, but as it is a great injury has been done. The citizens have at last grown weary of the senseless quarrel and both boards have been ejected. Such unseemly differences should be promptly squelched.

—Poor Beau Hickman was one of a class of beings whose existence is a study to the observers of human nature. With the qualifications of mind and heart that would, properly exercised, have won him an honorable if not a prominent position, he debased them to a use which rendered his life of as little—yes, less—account as the gaudy butterfly. With brains, fair accomplishments, the manners of a gentleman and wide acquaintance among the notabilities of the nation, he died a pauper after having spent his life in attempting to demonstrate the unworthy and unmanly theory that the world owed him a living. Fortunately there are few Beau Hickmans in this country.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—The President, Vice President and the entire Cabinet are away from Washington.

—Ben Butler says the Springfield Republican isn't half as virulent as it was when it was a Republican paper.

—Senator Morton says that draw-poker is becoming one of the lost arts at Washington.

—Prince Plon-Plon Napoleon claims recognation as a general of division in the French army.

—Charles O'Conor has been employed by the Potomac Ferry Company to defend them in the prosecution for the Wawasset disaster.

—John Hipple Mitchell, or Mitchell Hipple, or whatever his name is, the Oregon Senator, is to publish a statement giving the truth, as he claims, about his affairs, including his domestic difficulty.

—It is reported that some of the New York Aldermen claim that Mayor Havemeyer offered them inducements, in the way of political patronage, to vote for confirming his appointments.

—A Washington dispatch says the Treasury Department has under consideration the question of the means whereby the banks now believed to be aiding the gold conspirators can be detected and punished.

—Godfrey has turned up as a candidate, and challenges Gen. Butler to a joint discussion.

—Prince Arthur had a narrow escape from drowning at Ironville on the 19th ult., while bathing.

—An accident on the Luxemburgh Railway resulted in the death of eight and the wounding of fifteen.

—It is said cholera has been communicated to the troops at Havre by German emigrants on their way to the United States.

—Boston is troubled with the seamen's boarding house outrages. Foreign consuls are moving in the matter.

—George S. Redington, an Erie employee at Port Jervis, has been arrested for mobilierizing $3,500 of the company's funds.

—The Sunday law don't seem to be very strictly enforced in New York, as eighty open rumshops were counted in one precinct on Sunday last.

—The Pope has written a letter congratulating Count Chambord on his chances for the throne of France.

—A mason who was a witness in the fallen building investigation in New York says $5 spent in bracing the walls would have prevented their fall and saved eight lives.

—An Englishman was charged $13 by a New York hackman for carrying his baggage to a hotel. He thought it exorbitant and went with the hackman to a police station, when the Justice told him the fare was $3.

MADRID, Sept 3.—Gen. Hidalgo has resigned the Captain Generalship of Madrid and General Rigueras has been appointed his successor. By this change harmony has been restored in the Cabinet.

BROWN AND BIGLIN.

Agreement to Race at Halifax.

HALIFAX, Sept. 3.—Brown has agreed to Biglin's proposal for a race at Halifax three days after the St. Johns regatta and has signed articles and forwarded them with the necessary money for deposit to New York to bind the agreement. The race will probably take place on the 20th inst.

THE WEST INDIES.

The Virginius Once More.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 27.—The steamer Virginius is still here, but it is evidently preparing for another trip to Cuba. The Atlas from New York has, it is said, brought her a new Captain. The United States steamer Canandaigua still lies here with cases of chagres fever, not yellow fever, on board. The number of cases are diminishing daily. As soon as recruited she will return to Aspinwall.

CONFLAGRATION IN THE WOODS.

Terrible Fire in Maine.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 3.—A terrible fire is raging in the western part of East Surrey in a piece of woodland. A large force of men are fighting the flames, but if the high winds continue a great number of dwelling houses will be burned, as the wells are all dry and hardly any water is to be had.

PENNSYLVANIA,

A Grand Odd Fellows' Pic-Nic.

MINNEQUA SPRINGS, Pa., Sept. 3.—The Odd Fellows of northern Pennsylvia and southern New York united in a grand pic-nic here today. There were over 8,000 people present. Addresses were made by eminent speakers from New York and Philadelphia.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Anti-Prohibition Meeting---More Butler Delegates.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—A procession and mass meeting was held to-night under the auspices of the Boston Protective Union, with the object to repeal the prohibitory law. The meeting was very large, enthusiastic and orderly.

The Republicans of Charlestown to-day elected a full Butler delegation, numbering 19.

A THIEF CAUGHT.

His Examination at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 3.—F. C. Millwood, who was arrested in this city yesterday on a charge of fraudulently obtaining $2,000 from the Gould Manufacturing Company of Seneca Falls, N. Y., some months since, had a hearing before Justice Caffray this morning. The secretary of the company was present and made a statement of the facts. The prisoner waived a further investigation and was committed to await a requisition from the Governor of New York.

AQUATIC SPORTS.

The Canada International Regatta.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—At the international regatta here to-day the champion flag of the lake, the Governor General's medal and $300 for yachts over a course of thirty miles was won by the yacht Lady Stanley, but owing to the misplacement of a buoy the race will probably be declared off.

The four-oared amateur race was won by the Dominion Club, the Argonauts breaking their rudder. No professionals entered for the $750 prize for four-oared boats.

THE BROOKLYN STEAL.

Rodman in Suspense.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Rodman is still in jail at Brooklyn. He says he is surprised that certain friends have not yet bailed him out.—His bondsmen and those of City Treasurer Sprague gave their individual notes to the Comptroller of Brooklyn to-day, payable January first, to secure the city against loss.

Mayor Powell of Brooklyn is reported to have said this morning that unless Treasurer Sprague resigns he will cause him to be suspended and indicted as a defaulter within forty-eight hours.

CAR BUILDERS IN COUNCIL.

Meeting at Albany.

ALBANY, Sept. 3.—A meeting of car builders was held at West Albany to consider the pattern of an oil box and jaw for the standard car axle adopted at the Boston Car Builders' Convention last June. There were present Messrs. F. Childs of the Great Western Railway of Canada, George R. Bently of the Norwich & Worcester Railroad, F. D. Adams of the Boston & Albany Railroad, W. E. Chamberlain and W. R. Slocum of the same road, Enos Varney of the Fitchburgh Railroad, William Johnson of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad, Joseph Jones of the same road, L. Geary of the New York & Harlem and Geo. Hackett of New Jersey. The plans proposed by Joseph Jones of the New York Central, with some slight modification, were adopted.

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS.

The Platform and State Ticket.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 3.—The Democratic Convention has completed the state ticket as follows: For Lieutenant Governor, Wm. L. Smith of Springfield; Secretary of State, Benjamin F. Miller of Williamstown; Treasurer, Nathan Clark of Lynn; Auditor, Waldo Coburn of Dedham; Attorney General, C. Osgood Morse of Northampton.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 3.—The platform adopted by the Democratic Convention substantially rehearses the Ohio platform with numerous additions, chiefly of local application. One resolution accuses the Republican party of seduction of Democratic members of Congress to corrupt schemes of the Republican party to rob the people of their money. Upon the labor question the convention resolves that the time has now arrived for regulating the hours of labor in manufacturing establishments to ten hours for a day's and sixty hours for a week's work for women and children and that this convention pledges itself to support such legislation as will secure the enactment of such a law.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

Call for a Meeting at Utica.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—At a meeting of the Democratic State General Committee held to-night, at which nineteen delegates were present, a call by a unanimous vote was issued for holding the Democratic State Convention at Utica on October 1st.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The following is the text for the Democratic State Convention:

The Democratic-Republican electors of the State of New York and all others who favor the restoration of pure and economical government, municipal, state and federal, and who condemn monopoly and centralization are requested to elect one delegate from each Assembly district to a State Convention to be held at Utica, on Wednesday, the first day of October next, at 12 o'clock, noon, to nominate candidates for state officers and to transact such other business as may properly come before the Convention.

THE UNIVERSALISTS.

State Convention at Lockport.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Sept. 3.—The State Convention of Universalists assembled in this city yesterday. The convention is well attended and unusual interest is manifested. At the opening of the session at the Church of the Redeemer yesterday morning the following officers were elected: President, Rev. E. W. Crowell, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Vice President, Rev. L. J. Fletcher, of Buffalo; Secretary, Rev. C. C. Fluhrer; Session Clerk, Rev. James Vincent.

Religious services were held last evening and this morning. To-night a closing and general congratulatory meeting will be held at Hodge's Opera House.

LOCKPORT, Sept. 3.—An interesting session of the Universalists' State Convention was continued to-day. At the morning session Rev. J. M. Atwood, of New York, delivered a sermon. This afternoon Mrs. C. A. Saul, of the Woman's Centenary Association, made an address. Messrs. Martin Fletcher, Geo. Robinson, Rev. L. F. Fletcher and A. E. Kilby were appointed trustees of Lawrence University, at Canton, N. Y. D. D. T. Marshall, of New York, was elected Treasurer for the coming year. A large public meeting is being held in Hodge's Opera House this evening. The convention continues to-morrow.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

Heavy Sentences.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Robert Reed and John Wild, negroes, who robbed and nearly murdered a farmer on the Fourth of July near Flatbush, were sentenced twenty and ten years in State Prison respectively.

DISTINGUISHED FOREIGN VISITORS.

Rev. Newman Hall, Prof. Leathes, Baron Sacken, Hon. Wm. M. Fleiss, Lord Skilmersdale, Revs. J. C. Harrison and R. C. Hall from Europe, and Sir John Grant, Governor of Jamaica from Kingston, arrived here to-day.

THE PERUVIAN LANDSLIDE.

Peruvian advices confirm the previously reported immense landslide which dammed up the River Rimac. Nine lives were lost. Fears of its breaking away and an inundation of the city of Lima and surroundings have been partially dissipated, the water having risen to the top of the dam and is flowing steadily over.

RUMORED CUSTOM HOUSE CHANGES.

Another report is current that radical changes are soon to be made in the force at the Custom House. It is stated that Collector Arthur has submitted a plan for a complete reorganization of the force which will materially advance the promptness and efficiency of the system and be of great benefit to the mercantile public. The plan is believed to meet the sanction of the Secretary of the Treasury.

THE PRESIDENT POSTED ON LOUISIANA.

President Grant was to-day visited by Secretary Richardson and Lieut. Gov. Pinchback of Louisiana. The latter held a long conference with the President relative to affairs in Louisiana and says the President now fully understands the status of the political situation there.

EFFECT OF THE BOND FORGERIES.

The effect of the recent forgeries has been to lead to such a close scrutiny of bonds of railroads as to almost stop negotiations for such paper. An officer of the Stock Exchange to-day stated the other two parties known to be engaged in the forgeries are expected to be arrested by to-morrow. He also stated that these bonds had been in circulation since July.

VERDICT REGARDING THE FALLEN BUILDING.

The Coroner's jury investigating the cause of the fall of the building in West Eleventh street a short time ago, by which seven men were killed or fatally injured, to-day rendered a verdict of gross negligence of the contractors, John W. Crawford, Jesse Newman and Michael Pfortner, in not properly bracing the westerly wall when removing the timbers from said building during its construction. They recommend that the building inspectors of the Department of Buildings should be increased so that one could be assigned to each ward in the city. John W. Crawford and Jesse Newman were each bailed in $5,000. Pfortner was held in $2,000 bail.

ANOTHER DIAMOND SEIZURE.

To-night eight large diamonds, said to be worth $40.000, were seized from Messrs. Maurice & Joseph Parreryers, from England by steamer Adriatic on Sunday last, on the ground of smuggling them into the country and offering them for sale to a jeweler. They also tendered them to a Custom House officer, not knowing his position. They state that they intended them for their own wear.

ACCIDENT TO A RIVER BOAT.

The day boat from Albany to-day broke down in her machinery and was detained five hours at Stony Point. The passengers arrived here 10 o'clock to night. The officers wouldn't state the cause of the accident.

THE CREEDMOOR RIFLE RANGE.

The Directors of the National Rifle Association met to-day and made arrangements for the first annual match of the Association at Creedmoor, October 8th. Orange Judd, of the Agriculturist, offered $750 as a prize to members of the press. Other prizes offered by those not members of the Association amount to $6,200. The members offer $1,400 in cash, and in badges $1,400. The badges number fifty. Nine are gold, thirteen silver and twenty-eight bronze. Adjutant General Rathbone, from Albany, yesterday inspected the targets at Creedmoor and for the state offered $500 in prizes to regiments throughout the state—$100 to each division. He personally offers $100 as a prize. Col. Scoble, of the Ontario Rifle Association, Toronto, will attend with fifty Canadian sharpshooters.

THE TRANSPORTATION QUESTION.

Meeting of the Legislative Committee.

SARATOGA, Sept. 3.—The legislative joint committee on routes of transportation met here to-day. There were present Messrs. Lewis, Baker and D. P. Wood of the Senate committee and Messrs. Prince, Batcheller, Alberger, Weed, Fort and C. G. Cornell of the Assembly. Mr. Lewis was made chairman and L. Bradford Prince Secretary. A resolution was adopted inviting the United States Senate Committee to visit three routes of transportation, viz.: via Champlain, Erie and Oswego canals and recommending that the committee proceed by way of Lake Champlain to Oswego and thence to Buffalo. The committee adjourned to meet in New York on Friday, September 12th, to hold a consultation with the Congressional committee at that place and time. Telegrams were received from Messrs. Opdyke and Husted of the committee regarding their inability to attend the meeting.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Elmira made a Free Delivery Post Office.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The Post Office Department orders that Elmira, N. Y., be made a free delivery office and authorizes four carriers at a salary of six hundred dollars each.

THE BRUNOT-CROW TREATY.

The so-called Brunot-Crow treaty, to which name the western papers take so much objection, is simply an agreement entered into by commissioners appointed under a special act of Congress to obtain for the public use a portion of the lands which had been but a short time before guaranteed to the Crows by the United States. This agreement, which is of the same nature as is usually made with individuals or companies in cases of sales to the government, requires ratification by both the Senate and House of Representatives before it becomes binding, while treaties are acted upon by the Senate alone. Consequently it is not affected by the act forbidding treaties with Indians.

THE WAWASSET OWNERS TO BE PROSECUTED.

The Acting Solicitor of the Treasury this afternoon sent to Judge Fisher, United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, the evidence and report in the Wawasset investigation and instructed him to institute the necessary suits against any and all persons who have incurred a penalty or forfeiture growing out of the navigation or destruction of this vessel and for the enforcement of which the United States can be made a party or is interested.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For the Middle States and lower lake region fresh and brisk southeast or southwest winds, cloudy weather and rain.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—Since the schools have opened the stationers report a better trade.

—Dullness was the principal feature of the down-town streets yesterday afternoon.

—The Brothers' new school-hall has reached the top of its second story.

—Commodore Nutt says San Francisco and Australia are the best spots on the globe.

—Dead ducks are as plenty in Brown's Pond as lame ones in Wall street.

—W. J. Kent is erecting a handsome monument over the remains of Lyman W. Rouse in Montrepose Cemetery.

—One of our news-boys was considerably depressed in spirits yesterday. He got stuck with one of those $500 counterfeits.

—A considerable number of Rondout Methodists attended the camp-meeting at Neelytown on Wednesday.

—The gypsies crossed over into Esopus yesterday to tell the fortunes of the handsome lassies and portly dames of that goodly old Dutch town.

—The slates for the roof of the new Presbyterian church have arrived and the work of putting them on will be pushed rapidly forward.

—Henry Martin, a well-known Nimrod of this city, shot four partridges on Tuesday which weighed, after being dressed, five and a half pounds. Henry says "If all mans got zach gickens in hes bot den he got bleasunt veelings, aint id?"

—On Saturday night last, in going from the steamer Thomas Cornell to the residence of Mr. Charles McEntee on Chestnut street, a green satin sun umbrella, with a cane handle, was lost, and the finder will be rewarded if he, or she, will leave it with M. W. McEntee at this office.

—A. Perez, the tonsorial artist in the Mansion House building, went to New York last Monday and invested a heap of money in pilleray hair, and he can now make a switch till you can't rest. And curl hair? We reckon. You should see the gas burner he has to do it on! put a twist on a lady's locks that won't permit of shutting her eyes or mouth for a month, and keep her quiet about the creepe coming out.

Coal Arrival.

Yesterday 51 canal boats laden with 6,475 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

Another Excursion.

An excursion from Roxbury and Moresville will participate with the one from Shokan on Saturday next, the 6th inst.

Ulster County Dye Works.

Mr. A. H. Baylor is managing the Ulster County Dye Works, in Jacob's Valley, most satisfactorily to his patrons, and in return his trade is extending its limits. Mr. Baylor is a first-class dyer and in the course of his three years' experience here has never had a piece returned as unsatisfactory.

Carpet Works.

The woolen goods manufactory at Rifton near this city have lately had machinery for the manufacture of ingrain carpets put in, and the making of carpets is now a large portion of the business. Mr. C. T. Hazen is the superintendent of the works, and it is mainly owing to his energy and business foresight that they are in so flourishing a condition.—Since commencing the manufacture of carpets and up to August 26th, there have been three large shipments of those fabrics from the mills to the New York markets.

Camp Meeting.

The M. E. Zion Church will hold a camp-meeting at Gardiner commencing September 6th and closing September 15th. The Wallkill Valley Railway will run a special train on Sunday, the 7th and 14th insts., leaving Kingston at 8.30 A. M., and leaving Gardiner upon the return at 6 P. M. Excursion tickets $1 each.

Church Dedication.

The new M. E. Church at Samsonville in the town of Olive will be dedicated to the worship of God on Thursday, the 25th instant. Preaching at 10 o'clock A. M. and 2 1-2 P. M. Rev. Wm. Goss, P. E., is expected and also other able clergymen. The public is invited to attend.

Incendiary Fire.

On Monday night the house and barn of Mr. James Kelley, situated on the road leading from Hurley to Whiteport, were totally destroyed by fire. The house was unoccupied, but the barn was filled with this year's crops. The fire is said to have been the work of an incendiary. The loss is estimated at about $1,500. No insurance.

Military.

Extensive preparations are being made for the entertainment of the Tenth Battalion, National Guard, which will go into camp at Po'keepsie on Monday next, for three days. The camp will be called Camp Husted, in honor of James W. Husted, Major General commanding 5th Division, N. G. S. N. Y. It is expected noted military men from all parts of the state will be present during the encampment.

Lively Times Coming.

There will be a busy time in the upper part of the city next week, for County Court will convene on Monday, while the Teachers' Institute will commence its session at the same time. We don't know as this session of the Court will be unusually lively, for it seems the calendar will be light, as is generally the case at this season of the year, and criminal business is very dull indeed. However, Court and Teachers' Institute combined will quite likely fill the place with school-marms, jurymen, witnesses, lawyers and professors with long hair, so the good folks will have sufficient entertainment to drive away ennui, besides learning something entirely new, may be.

A Tarrytown Bank Cashier Worked to Death.

John H. Rosenquest, cashier of the First National Bank of Tarrytown, committed suicide yesterday morning by cutting his throat with a razor at his residence on Train street. An inquest was held by Coroner E. D. Bassett, during which the fact was revealed that Mr. Rosenquest had been suffering from fits of mental derangement for some months.

In May last he went to Europe for the benefit of his health and returned in July, but his condition was not much improved. His body was found by his wife, who found him lying in his room face downwards, in a pool of blood, the fatal razor lying near him.—Death must have ensued almost instantaneously, as the throat was cut from ear to ear. Mr. Rosenquest was a man who attended closely to business, and it is thought that his intense application to his work affected his mind and led to the above terrible work. He leaves a wife and two children. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death, caused by deceased cutting his throat while laboring under temporary aberration.—Hudson Star.

ALONG THE RIVER.

Fifty-five persons visited North Beacon on Monday of last week.

Latermore's horse, which fell through the road bridge over the Hudson River Railroad, a few days ago at Fishkill Landing and seriously hurt his back, has been shot.

Walter Smith, formerly of the Short Cut, has been appointed Conductor on the Hudson River Railroad. He went up Tuesday morning in charge of the North and West Express, which leaves New York at 10:45.

The steamer General Sedgwick has been chartered to leave Poughkeepsie September 13th on an excursion to the fishing banks and Coney Island.

Jimmy Ten Eyck, of Poughkeepsie, who is anxious to row Billy Scharff, of Pittsburgh, has not yet heard from the rower of the smoky city. Jimmy is much disappointed.

Tommy Taylor, whose mother keeps a saloon on the Albany road near the covered bridge, in West Troy, stole $250 from his mother's money drawer, Friday, and ran away from home. He was seen in South Troy Friday night, but nothing has been heard from him since.

The steamer McDonald, of Austin's Albany and New York towing line, while on her way down the river on Sunday night, blew a plug out of her boiler, and was obliged to put in at the Buckeye dock, at Poughkeepsie, for repairs. Word was sent to Albany and another boat was sent down, which proceeded to New York with the McDonald's tow yesterday morning. Boilermakers were secured and set at work repairing the boiler, and the McDonald was enabled to return to Albany Monday night.

The Tom Powell arrived at Troy at an early hour Monday morning, heavily laden with freight. The new shaft will be ready next week. The management of the line are trying to secure the services of one of the following boats to run while the new shaft is placed in the boat: The Escort, Granite State, William Cook and Monitor. It is probable that the Granite State, which has eighty staterooms, will be chartered.

Look Out.

Drovers who send cattle over the N. Y., K. & S. Railroad to be shipped by steamer from this city for New York, may rest assured that the authorities in this city are keeping a bright lookout that cattle, jammed in the cars in such a manner as to endanger their delivery in New York in good order, will be promptly reported by telegraph to the Health Officers of that city, and "they are no great hands for foolishness."

Wedding in Camp.

On Monday last the regular exercises at the camp meeting at Neelytown were varied by the Rev. Mr. Ostrander, of this city, being called on to perform the marriage ceremony for a couple. The thing was done with neatness and dispatch, and the bridegroom not only got religion at the camp meeting, but also the next best thing—a good wife. May the young couple "live long and prosper."

Hotel Talked Of.

We are pleased to learn that a project is on foot in upper Kingston to organize a stock company for the purpose of building a hotel in that part of the city. No definite shape is yet given to the scheme, but the thing is being talked of, and that is the first step toward a realization of the project. No place in the state needs a good hotel, or three or four of them, more than this city, and it is to be hoped that the enterprise will end in something beside talk.

Election of Board of Governors.

At a meeting of the incorporators of the Ulster General Hospital held at the Grand Central Hotel on Tuesday evening last, the following named persons were chosen governors for the ensuing year: E. T. Van Nostrand, Dr. Robert Loughran, Dr. J. O. Van Hoevenburgh, W. M. Hayes, C. L. Kiersted, Charles G. Koch, Nathaniel Booth, J. G. Tubby, J. G. Lindsley, S. D. Coykendall. Dr. A. Crispell, Dr. A. T. Douglas, John Derrenbacher, Thomas Hamilton, John O'Reilly. A meeting of the Board of Governors will be held at the Grand Central Hotel on Saturday next, Sept. 6th, at 8 P. M. for the election of officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the board.

Going! Going! But not Gone.

Wiltwyck Hose Company No. 1 of this city, has fully determined to visit Poughkeepsie on a target excursion some time during the present month. They will embark on the steamer Thomas Cornell on her down passage and return by the same boat on her up trip, the evening following. It is said Wiltwyck will have "a hundred men or more" on the drag rope, while a number of invited guests will also be of the party. Burger's band have been engaged to do the wind jamming, and it is whispered loud enough to hear from there to this place that the fire laddies of Poughkeepsie are getting things in readiness to make it lively and vigorous for the Wiltwyckians while they sojourn in that energetic city.

Costly Sport.

A young lawyer uptown has been three days hunting in the Beaverkill swamp. When last heard from he had killed one chipmonk and shot the tail feathers off a robin. Actual expense so far:

Powder,	$1.25
Shot,	.75
Appetite,	3.75
Shoe leather,	4.00
Wear and tear of garments,	5.00
For plasters and brandy,	1.00
	$15.75

As an offset to this he carries in his hands and legs about a peck of first-class thorns, and in his shoes four quarts of Beaverkill mud.

Personal.

Mr. S. D. Coykendall and party arrived home yesterday, having greatly enjoyed their trip.

Mr. James Murphy and Alderman Matthew Larkin left last evening for Montreal and a tour through Canada, after Mr. Murphy has visited a son, who is at college in Montreal.

Lieutenant F. A. Smith, Twelfth Infantry U. S. A., was in town on Wednesday, taking leave of his friends previous to starting to join his regiment. He leaves for San Francisco on the 15th, having orders to report at headquarters on Angel Island, San Francisco harbor, on the 30th. He carried with him many warm wishes for his welfare and a rapid rise in rank.

Rev. E. D. Ledyard and family will reach home by the Mary Powell this evening. We are pleased to learn that the reverend gentleman's health has been much improved by his cessation from pastoral labor.

New Railroad.

Rumors have been rife for several days that a corpse of engineers were engaged in surveying a route for a railroad which was to pass through our village. On Wednesday evening last the engineers arrived here, and are now laying out the route. This road is intended as a branch of the Wallkill Valley and is to run into Albany. We learn that the route thus far selected is one that is easily placed in order should it be decided to build it. It passes through this village a short distance west of the toll gate. This makes the sixth survey that different companies have made in this place, and one road only has thus far been built. Whether this new survey will amount to anything or not we cannot tell. One thing is certain, a railroad along the west side of the Hudson would be a good paying one. Only stop this blarneying and go to work and build the road. We would like to see the project assume a definite shape.—Coeymans Herald.

The Schoonmaker-Cooper Case.

The examination in the great county Counsel Fees' suit was continued yesterday at the Court House. The examination was conducted by Peter Cantine on the part of the Board of Supervisors, and Charles A. Fowler for Messrs. Schoonmaker and Cooper.

MARIUS SCHOONMAKER re-called and examined by Mr. Fowler, testified: There was a discrepancy between the men put in under the July call of 1864 as shown by the books of the Provost Marshal here and the number credited at the Adjutant General's office in Albany. The official statement from the office of the Provost Marshal shows that the number put in under the call of July, 1864, was 1,947; under the call of December 18, 1864, 829, making in the aggregate 2,786. The official statement in the Adjutant General's office shows the whole number of men put in at 2,554, making a difference of 232. I attended the Commission of Appeals in March. I attended the Sullivan Circuit in February, and returned from that Circuit the day our motion was made in Albany. That Circuit was held after I was discharged by the Board. I attended the Delaware Circuit in December. I had one case at the Delaware Circuit that I expected to try, two in the calendar. It was a case that had been to the Court of Appeals.

Mr. Moak offered in evidence some resolutions of the Board of Supervisors.

Cross-Examination.—I made no examination myself in either the Adjutant General's office or the Provost Marshal's office; I did not obtain this information from the Treasurer's office. I do not know the fact that the men put in the navy were not credited at the Adjutant General's office; I did not investigate to see how that discrepancy arose; I did not try to find out as to particular towns; these discrepancies arose under the calls of July and December, 1864; I do not know whether those put in the last day of the war were credited at the Adjutant General's office; I suppose there might be a good many supposable cases.

Question—You cannot say whether that discrepancy is the result of any fraud or not.

Answer—No, sir.

I knew nothing of the sickness of Charles Brodhead at the time of the investigation until we commenced the investigation. Upon examining a paper the witness proceeded:

That is an extract from the books in the Treasurer's office; that was taken from the books. It was made from the regular bond book; they have a book of the old issue of bonds there. I saw the resolution; notwithstanding the report of the committ ee relating to a settlement for old bonds in the hands of Supervisors, I assumed from the facts I ascertained there had not been a proper settlement. I ascertained the fact that the only settlement made with the Finance Committee was that the Supervisors would give a certificate or memoranda showing the number of men they had put in but no memoranda as to moneys paid to those men. I ascertained these facts from Mr. Brodhead; I do not recollect whether I ascertained it from any one else or not; he was a member of the Finance Committee; he was Deputy County Treasurer at the time; I did not ascertain the fact from any other person; I made no inquiry of any one else; Brodhead showed me some papers upon which some settlements had been made; not all the papers; I do not recollect that Mr. Brodhead informed me that the Finance Committee had given to each of the Supervisors a certificate that they had accounted in full for bonds; I suppose they had; I do not recollect whether I saw a full settlement with any of the Supervisors or not; I did not see a statement of how many men any Supervisor had put in; I do not know of my own knowledge whether any Supervisor had or had not paid the full bounty or not; I had information that some of the Supervisors had made contracts to have men put in much below the bounty allowed and they were put in under that contract, consequently the Supervisors got the benefit of the surplus. During that time I believe the bonds were selling considerably below par value. I did not suppose that the Board of Supervisors could settle with themselves through the Finance Committee; my idea was that they could only charge the county what the men had cost them that they put in. There was hand money paid under the call of December, 1865—money paid to the person procuring the recruit; it is charged independently of the bounty; they charge some $100,000 odd hand money.

The information that the First National Bank of Rondout deducted 3½ per cent. from the face of the bonds was not entered in the bond book. I saw some memoranda of Mr. Brodhead's and received the information also from general statements made by him. There was nothing under the signature of Mr. Bray that showed that he had received 3½ per cent. commission. I saw a memoranda of Brodhead's which was in the form of a bank book; I do not recollect that I saw the real bank book. I do not know as I can give the entries. I made out a statement of how much Brodhead received from the bank and how many bonds went to the bank. I do not know where the statement is; I have not looked for it; I made out two or three statements; I made out the statement from information that Mr. Brodhead furnished.

Q. If it should turn out that Mr. Bray received nearly all those bonds at Mr. Brodhead's office in Kingston and at the time he received say $10,000 of bonds, that he delivered to Brodhead his own individual check for the amount of bonds together with all the accrued interest on it—that would be a different state of facts from what Mr. Brodhead informed you?

A. Yes; I do not understand the fact to be so.

Q. If it should turn out that that was really the fact?

A. That is a very different state of facts. That upon the face of it would appear to be an individual transaction. I never asked the bank for a statement of the account between them and Mr. Brodhead of new bonds sold by that bank, nor any officer of it. The only evidence I have is Mr. Brodhead's statement and his memoranda; memoranda of his own. A considerable amount of the claim against the bank was for accrued interest; this book I refer to was merely a memoranda book; I did not ascertain that bonds had been sold through C. D. Bruyn, on which accrued interest had not been allowed to the county; the only information which he gave me of commissions allowed was through Mr. Bray of the First National Bank of Rondout; the bond book did not give the dates of the sales of bonds to the bank; I think the most of them were sold in 1871. The book was a small one, something like a bank pass book, if I recollect right; I do not recollect whether all the entries were in Brodhead's handwriting or not. I rather think they were, though. At the time I was in the investigating committee there was a large book in which there were several entries, but I have not seen that book since that time; I presume Mr. Brodhead has the memorandum book; I might have had it two or three days.

Q.—In looking over that book or any other books of Mr. Brodhead did you ever see an entry in substance or effect that he had paid $1,500 or any other amount for the purpose of getting the new bond law passed?

A.—I have no recollection of it; I may have seen it, or may not. Mr. Schoonmaker then testified that he had discovered a portion of his brief in the Supervisors vs. Brodhead case, and testified as to the number of circuits held in Ulster each year. I suppose the $27,000 mortgage was given back at the same time the deed was given to Mr. Coykendall; I do not know. There was a first mortgage given by the R. & O. R. R. for $2,000,000 to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company; I do not recollect whether the deed to Coykendall was recorded previous to the time of the execution of that mortgage. I understand there is a claim that the $2,000,000 mortgage covers this land covered by the $27,000 mortgage. I do not know as I understand that the suit of foreclosure against the Railroad Company, Mr. Brill and others was begun at the time I tried this suit against Mr. Brodhead; I do not recollect about it.

Q.—If it had been commenced against Mr. Brill at that time, you would be apt to know?

A.—Probably should. Mr. Cooper has talked with me in relation to that suit; I understand he is Mr. Brill's attorney in the suit; I think I have read a copy of the complaint in that case; I do not know when the papers were served in the suit; there was no evidence before Referee Scott that this suit was pending; nor that the Rondout & Oswego Railroad company had commenced a suit for the foreclosure of the $27,000 mortgage; I knew a suit of that kind had been commenced, and that Mr. Bernard was attorney for plaintiff. My understanding was that the case had been commenced, but I understood it had been abandoned; I think I discovered that that suit was pending before the trial before Mr. Scott, but I do not know; I made no inquiry of Mr. Bernard to know whether the suit had been discontinued.

The Civil Damage Law in Ulster.

'Squire Chipp has the honor of having tried in his court the first civil damage case in the county. The parties are Thomas Delaney, plaintiff, against John M. Brinnier, defendant, and the facts are as follows: Brinnier runs a saloon on Union avenue, and on the 5th of July last the son of the plaintiff, John Delaney, aged about 20 years, drank at his place a number of glasses of beer, which with sundry other glasses taken in at other saloons on the avenue, made him very drunk. His brother tried to bring him home, but he broke loose from them and ran down the street hallooing and screeching like one of Ned. Buntline's Indians. He was afterwards found by John Deyo near home, lying in the gutter, and was taken up by Deyo and the boy's mother and carried in the house. It was also shown the son's intellect was weak, and that he occasionally had fits. The saloon-keeper was well aware of this disease, and had also been forbidden by Thomas Delaney to sell liquor to any of his family. There don't seem to have been a very great amount of damage proved, but the law says exemplary damages can be given, so we suppose the Justice is only limited by the amount asked for in the complaint, which is fifty dollars. The justice reserved his decision. The attorneys were G. Hill for plaintiff and D. W. Sparling for defendant. During the trial the room was crowded with dealers in spirits anxiously watching the case. The decision will have its effect on these men, no doubt, and do more good for the cause of temperance than a hundred speeches. We expect to see a full calendar of such cases in every court soon, and then there will be a decided decrease in the whiskey market.

A Civil Rights Case in Poughkeepsie.

The free schools of Poughkeepsie were opened for the season Monday, and right away a civil rights case sprung up. There appeared at the Fourth Ward Primary School two colored girls—Josephine Rhodes, aged fifteen, and Marietta Rhodes, aged nine years. They are the daughters of highly respectable colored people in Poughkeepsie, their father being the proprietor of a large dyeing establishment. The Principal of the school, Miss Carey, told the children they must be mistaken, that they meant the colored school in Catharine street. They said no, and insisted upon remaining, and did remain until noon. In the meantime Miss Carey visited one of the Board of Education and asked his opinion of the matter. He told her that the law allowed no distinction, and if the colored people asked admission to the schools supported by common tax they must be received. The teacher returned and informed Josephine, the eldest girl, that she was too far advanced to enter that school (she is quite well up in her studies,) but could go to the Second Ward Grammar School, and that Marietta could stay. After dinner Marietta went back and stayed about an hour, when she returned home crying, saying that the teacher had given her books back to her, and sent her home. Mr. Rhodes, her father, at once called upon Mr. Leonard B. Sackett, one of the members of the Board, in relation to the matter. Mr. Sackett didn't seem to want to take hold of it, and sent Mr. Rhodes to the Committee on the Fourth Ward School. Up to six o'clock Monday night, however, no decision had been reached, and a special meeting of the Board of Education will be called. Judge Eldridge, President of the Board, entertains the opinion that the city is one school district, and that when the Board provided a separate school for colored children, it fulfilled the letter of the law. Others, however, say that does not meet the spirit of the law. Meanwhile Mr. Rhodes' children will refrain from attempting to enter any of the free schools until the Board reaches a decision. The Board, if the law is correctly read, has no business whatever with the matter, so far as the "color" of the children is concerned.

A Reporter Interviewed.

We went over to Rhinecliff yesterday and there we met "Romeo"—and we are always most as glad to meet him as we used to be to eat the "grub" he cooked during the campaigning days of the old "B Company, 20th Regiment, N. Y. S. M." When we landed from the Lark, Romeo, as big as ever, but not so big as he is good-natured and obliging, tipped us a sly wink, and leading the way to an angle of the steamboat wharf, where the spring piles didn't shed as much of a shade as we would have liked had we ordered it, he remarked, "you're a newspaper man, an I want t'know f'you know that little bugle-eyed, punch-bellied, windy little cuss that comes up here now and agin from P'keepsie?" We ventured the suggestion we didn't think we did, but as the description was rather vague we thought, if Romeo would descend to details, we might possibly form a conjecture as to whom he referred. "Oh, well, he's a hungry cuss; now he can ask more questions 'bout nothin'—jest tryin' to found out somethin' you know!—than a drill sergeant can give orders to an awkward squad. I've heard folks call him George; and then agin I've heard 'em call him David, an when I first see what pryin' ways he had, an two names, an always so thick with the railroad and steamboat folks I thought he was a thief, and I'd keep my eye on him, but I've found out he's a newspaper man a lookin' for news, so when he comes up here I always have somethin' for him, and he bites like a gudgeon. Did you see Wednesday's Poughkeepsie Eagle?" We pleaded ignorance as to the contents of that enterprising (?) sheet, when our member of the house of Capulet continued, "well, he was up here t'other day an' he didn't get much but drinks an' sich like, so I thought I'd help him out, an' when the boat come I sung out 'this way for the Chauncey Vibbard, the 'co-genial paradox of the Hudson!' and you ought'er seen him scribble that down on a old envelope. So he come up agin yesterday, and he kinder prowled 'round asking questions and smellin' about, an' he didn't seem very chipper when the boat come along, so I though't I'd give him 'nother lift, an' I sung out, 'this way for the great practical oblivion of the North river,' and 'fore he went for 'the great practical oblivion' he went for that same old yaller envelope, and after he had scratched it down he come up an' shook hands good-bye with me, and I'll be —— if both them expressions of mine ain't in that Poughkeepsie Eagle this morning with the information I can have room at Dr. Cleveland's hotel whenever I want it. Well, all right; when I want it that little Davids' hair 'll be cut closer than it is now an' his waistcoat 'll be a heap snugger'n 'tis now. Here comes the train an' the up boat—goin' to take the train, eh? well, don't say nothin' 'bout this, you know!"

OUR FREE PARLIAMENT.

Dead Heads vs. Sore Heads.

Some one, who is cautious enough to conceal his name from the public, appears in your issue of yesterday with an article entitled, "Half Dead Heads," the object of which is to ridicule the clergy in general, and those in particular who are guilty of accepting half-fare tickets from the railroads. The writer does not mention his own "status" in society, but from the fact that he calls the clergy his brethren, I infer he is either a minister himself, or a church member; and from the fact that he despises the gift of a half-fare ticket, I infer he is either better off than ministers in general, or else he has never had a half-fare ticket offered him.

I am very strongly inclined to the opinion that he belongs to that class who have been overlooked in the distribution of the "sweet boons." There are many who preach just enough to claim all the immunitees and privileges of ministers, but whose lives are mainly devoted to some secular employment. Such the officers of the railroad have not seen fit to honor with half-fare tickets. They are limited to those who preach the gospel as their chief or only profession, whose lives are given to the public, and not unfrequently sacrificed for the public good. The unknown writer puts a false gloss upon the subject. He would argue that the privileges and favors granted to ministers proceed upon the supposition that they are only half men. Indeed he says they have always "held an humble status in society when measured by the simple virtue of manliness." I deny it. They have been more than peers to the business part of society in the virtue of manliness; they have been patterns. Whether manliness is a simple virtue I know not. I judge it however to be a compound virtue, one part of which is to treat all classes of society with respect. If he means by manliness independence, they have enough of that. If he means bravado, they are not a match perhaps for some, but they are satisfied with being simply brave.

Again, he would have his readers believe that the gift of half-fare tickets, as well as discounts at stores, etc., if not from lack of manliness is on account of their poverty only. I deny this also. Not that ministers as a class are above the reach of want, for it is proverbial that they are of all workmen the most scantily rewarded in worldly things. But I claim a higher motive in the public mind for granting this class of society extra privileges. It is out of respect to their calling. No other men save ministers are commissioned of Heaven to their work. To them is committed the work of saving souls and reforming the wrongs of our social economy. Because of their presence in society as well as that they are most miserably requited for their work the public feeling is in favor of granting them certain perquisites which are not common to everybody. What society would become without the bible and without the living teacher to enforce it, it is impossible to conjecture. Neither can business men, whether railroad companies or what not, presume to tell how frail a tenure they would hold on their wealth if society rid of its religious teachers should be left to form its own character. So we see a great deal is owed to the minister of righteousness. In fact the real cause for dissatisfaction is not that half-tickets are given to the clergy but that they do not give them free passes. At least if they are required to pay half-fare abolish that most cruel practice of making them personally responsible for all accidents to themselves and losses to their property while traveling. If you mean to give a man a thing do it in such a way as not to make the blessing a curse.

He tells us that "he who after reflection remains a half-dead-head, wears the visible chains of servitude, as mean as it is destructive of all true manliness and power." This would be true if the boon were considered a sort of hush money to shut the lips of the clergy against the abuses of railroad corporations. It would be true if it were considered a bribe to procure the influence of the clergy in favor of railroad measures. But as it is neither I fail to see that a half-dead-head becomes in any way a servant of the railroad company. He receives his certificate thankfully, yet never considers it a personal favor, but a respect shown to his calling. I trust there is manliness enough to be found among ministers to reject any and all gifts that would abridge their freedom of speech or make them menial servants to an earthly power.

ANOTHER ARTICLE OF COMMON HOUSEHOLD USE SUPERSEDED.—Associated with the earlier recollections of a great many men and women is the memory of the Bath brick and emery stone wherewith the knives and forks, and pans and kettles, and other kitchen articles were at stated times "scoured up." That primitive mode prevails to-day in thousands of families who have never used Sapolio. But once let Sapolio be used for this purpose and that housewife never wants Bath brick or emery stone any more. Sapolio not only scours off all rust and tarnish; it brightens, bestows a polish as brilliant as new, and does it in one tenth the time required by any other substance. Sold everywhere. Housekeepers, try it.

Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil is clean, sweet and pleasant to use, and cures headache, toothache, ague in the face and jaws, earache, sore eyes, erysipelas, rheumatic pains, cramps, cold in the head, sore throat, &c. Try it, reader. Sold by R. Deyo and all druggists in Rondout and Kingston.

AUTUMN IS AT THE DOOR!
THE FALL SEWING MUST BE COMMENCED?
Are You Properly Prepared ?
We cannot offer you much in way of STITCHES, but are on hand to help you efficiently as possible by furnishing the
GOODS NOW WANTED
for outfits for your girls, clothing for your boys and all the various articles demanded for family comfort, housekeeping conveniences and the pleasant equipment of home.
Our plans for the fall are:
To. Keep a Better Stock
Than usual, to push our trade in handsome and substantial goods as rapidly as demand will justify, and to stand fast by the honored principle that has made our store popular and our business successful, viz.:
ONE PRICE TO ALL
And the fair truth as to quality of what we sell.
At the opening of the fall season we take occasion to correct some evident misapprehension as to our style of TRUSTING. We are not disposed to make
"CAST IRON RULES"
as to trade made by any of our well-known customers, and it is our wish and our interest to be obliging to all, but we MUST be understood as positively determined
NOT TO DO A CREDIT BUSINESS!
Such of our reliable customers as find the usual Thirty days a convenience, are entirely welcome to the time, if payment is promptly made, but we make no offer of running accounts and cannot consent to do anything but a strictly
CASH BUSINESS.
This is simply just to our trade and aside from convenience to ourselves, the maintenance of the principle is of real importance to our customers, for we cannot sell goods at the very close margin we now make if our profits are to be cut down by losses sure to come with any general credit trade.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—Since the schools have opened the stationers report a better trade.

—Dullness was the principal feature of the down-town streets yesterday afternoon.

—The Brothers' new school-hall has reached the top of its second story.

—Commodore Nutt says San Francisco and Australia are the best spots on the globe.

—Dead ducks are as plenty in Brown's Pond as lame ones in Wall street.

—W. J. Kent is erecting a handsome monument over the remains of Lyman W. Rouse in Montrepose Cemetery.

—One of our news-boys was considerably depressed in spirits yesterday. He got stuck with one of those $500 counterfeits.

—A considerable number of Rondout Methodists attended the camp-meeting at Neelytown on Wednesday.

—The gypsies crossed over into Esopus yesterday to tell the fortunes of the handsome lassies and portly dames of that goodly old Dutch town.

—The slates for the roof of the new Presbyterian church have arrived and the work of putting them on will be pushed rapidly forward.

—Henry Martin, a well-known Nimrod of this city, shot four partridges on Tuesday which weighed, after being dressed, five and a half pounds. Henry says "If all mans got zach gickens in hes bot den he got bleasunt veelings, aint id?"

—On Saturday night last, in going from the steamer Thomas Cornell to the residence of Mr. Charles McEntee on Chestnut street, a green satin sun umbrella, with a cane handle, was lost, and the finder will be rewarded if he, or she, will leave it with M. W. McEntee at this office.

—A. Perez, the tonsorial artist in the Mansion House building, went to New York last Monday and invested a heap of money in pilleray hair, and he can now make a switch till you can't rest. And curl hair? We reckon. You should see the gas burner he has to do it on! put a twist on a lady's locks that won't permit of shutting her eyes or mouth for a month, and keep her quiet about the creepe coming out.

Coal Arrival.

Yesterday 51 canal boats laden with 6,475 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

Another Excursion.

An excursion from Roxbury and Moresville will participate with the one from Shokan on Saturday next, the 6th inst.

Ulster County Dye Works.

Mr. A. H. Baylor is managing the Ulster County Dye Works, in Jacob's Valley, most satisfactorily to his patrons, and in return his trade is extending its limits. Mr. Baylor is a first-class dyer and in the course of his three years' experience here has never had a piece returned as unsatisfactory.

Carpet Works.

The woolen goods manufactory at Rifton near this city have lately had machinery for the manufacture of ingrain carpets put in, and the making of carpets is now a large portion of the business. Mr. C. T. Hazen is the superintendent of the works, and it is mainly owing to his energy and business foresight that they are in so flourishing a condition.—Since commencing the manufacture of carpets and up to August 26th, there have been three large shipments of those fabrics from the mills to the New York markets.

Camp Meeting.

The M. E. Zion Church will hold a camp-meeting at Gardiner commencing September 6th and closing September 15th. The Wallkill Valley Railway will run a special train on Sunday, the 7th and 14th insts., leaving Kingston at 8.30 A. M., and leaving Gardiner upon the return at 6 P. M. Excursion tickets $1 each.

Church Dedication.

The new M. E. Church at Samsonville in the town of Olive will be dedicated to the worship of God on Thursday, the 25th instant. Preaching at 10 o'clock A. M. and 2 1-2 P. M. Rev. Wm. Goss, P. E., is expected and also other able clergymen. The public is invited to attend.

Incendiary Fire.

On Monday night the house and barn of Mr. James Kelley, situated on the road leading from Hurley to Whiteport, were totally destroyed by fire. The house was unoccupied, but the barn was filled with this year's crops. The fire is said to have been the work of an incendiary. The loss is estimated at about $1,500. No insurance.

Military.

Extensive preparations are being made for the entertainment of the Tenth Battalion, National Guard, which will go into camp at Po'keepsie on Monday next, for three days. The camp will be called Camp Husted, in honor of James W. Husted, Major General commanding 5th Division, N. G. S. N. Y. It is expected noted military men from all parts of the state will be present during the encampment.

Lively Times Coming.

There will be a busy time in the upper part of the city next week, for County Court will convene on Monday, while the Teachers' Institute will commence its session at the same time. We don't know as this session of the Court will be unusually lively, for it seems the calendar will be light, as is generally the case at this season of the year, and criminal business is very dull indeed. However, Court and Teachers' Institute combined will quite likely fill the place with school-marms, jurymen, witnesses, lawyers and professors with long hair, so the good folks will have sufficient entertainment to drive away ennui, besides learning something entirely new, may be.

A Tarrytown Bank Cashier Worked to Death.

John H. Rosenquest, cashier of the First National Bank of Tarrytown, committed suicide yesterday morning by cutting his throat with a razor at his residence on Train street. An inquest was held by Coroner E. D. Bassett, during which the fact was revealed that Mr. Rosenquest had been suffering from fits of mental derangement for some months.

In May last he went to Europe for the benefit of his health and returned in July, but his condition was not much improved. His body was found by his wife, who found him lying in his room face downwards, in a pool of blood, the fatal razor lying near him.—Death must have ensued almost instantaneously, as the throat was cut from ear to ear. Mr. Rosenquest was a man who attended closely to business, and it is thought that his intense application to his work affected his mind and led to the above terrible work. He leaves a wife and two children. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death, caused by deceased cutting his throat while laboring under temporary aberration.—Hudson Star.

ALONG THE RIVER.

Fifty-five persons visited North Beacon on Monday of last week.

Latermore's horse, which fell through the road bridge over the Hudson River Railroad, a few days ago at Fishkill Landing and seriously hurt his back, has been shot.

Walter Smith, formerly of the Short Cut, has been appointed Conductor on the Hudson River Railroad. He went up Tuesday morning in charge of the North and West Express, which leaves New York at 10:45.

The steamer General Sedgwick has been chartered to leave Poughkeepsie September 13th on an excursion to the fishing banks and Coney Island.

Jimmy Ten Eyck, of Poughkeepsie, who is anxious to row Billy Scharff, of Pittsburgh, has not yet heard from the rower of the smoky city. Jimmy is much disappointed.

Tommy Taylor, whose mother keeps a saloon on the Albany road near the covered bridge, in West Troy, stole $250 from his mother's money drawer, Friday, and ran away from home. He was seen in South Troy Friday night, but nothing has been heard from him since.

The steamer McDonald, of Austin's Albany and New York towing line, while on her way down the river on Sunday night, blew a plug out of her boiler, and was obliged to put in at the Buckeye dock, at Poughkeepsie, for repairs. Word was sent to Albany and another boat was sent down, which proceeded to New York with the McDonald's tow yesterday morning. Boilermakers were secured and set at work repairing the boiler, and the McDonald was enabled to return to Albany Monday night.

The Tom Powell arrived at Troy at an early hour Monday morning, heavily laden with freight. The new shaft will be ready next week. The management of the line are trying to secure the services of one of the following boats to run while the new shaft is placed in the boat: The Escort, Granite State, William Cook and Monitor. It is probable that the Granite State, which has eighty staterooms, will be chartered.

Look Out.

Drovers who send cattle over the N. Y., K. & S. Railroad to be shipped by steamer from this city for New York, may rest assured that the authorities in this city are keeping a bright lookout that cattle, jammed in the cars in such a manner as to endanger their delivery in New York in good order, will be promptly reported by telegraph to the Health Officers of that city, and "they are no great hands for foolishness."

Wedding in Camp.

On Monday last the regular exercises at the camp meeting at Neelytown were varied by the Rev. Mr. Ostrander, of this city, being called on to perform the marriage ceremony for a couple. The thing was done with neatness and dispatch, and the bridegroom not only got religion at the camp meeting, but also the next best thing—a good wife. May the young couple "live long and prosper."

Hotel Talked Of.

We are pleased to learn that a project is on foot in upper Kingston to organize a stock company for the purpose of building a hotel in that part of the city. No definite shape is yet given to the scheme, but the thing is being talked of, and that is the first step toward a realization of the project. No place in the state needs a good hotel, or three or four of them, more than this city, and it is to be hoped that the enterprise will end in something beside talk.

Election of Board of Governors.

At a meeting of the incorporators of the Ulster General Hospital held at the Grand Central Hotel on Tuesday evening last, the following named persons were chosen governors for the ensuing year: E. T. Van Nostrand, Dr. Robert Loughran, Dr. J. O. Van Hoevenburgh, W. M. Hayes, C. L. Kiersted, Charles G. Koch, Nathaniel Booth, J. G. Tubby, J. G. Lindsley, S. D. Coykendall. Dr. A. Crispell, Dr. A. T. Douglas, John Derrenbacher, Thomas Hamilton, John O'Reilly. A meeting of the Board of Governors will be held at the Grand Central Hotel on Saturday next, Sept. 6th, at 8 P. M. for the election of officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the board.

Going! Going! But not Gone.

Wiltwyck Hose Company No. 1 of this city, has fully determined to visit Poughkeepsie on a target excursion some time during the present month. They will embark on the steamer Thomas Cornell on her down passage and return by the same boat on her up trip, the evening following. It is said Wiltwyck will have "a hundred men or more" on the drag rope, while a number of invited guests will also be of the party. Burger's band have been engaged to do the wind jamming, and it is whispered loud enough to hear from there to this place that the fire laddies of Poughkeepsie are getting things in readiness to make it lively and vigorous for the Wiltwyckians while they sojourn in that energetic city.

Costly Sport.

A young lawyer uptown has been three days hunting in the Beaverkill swamp. When last heard from he had killed one chipmonk and shot the tail feathers off a robin. Actual expense so far:

Powder,	$1.25
Shot,	.75
Appetite,	3.75
Shoe leather,	4.00
Wear and tear of garments,	5.00
For plasters and brandy,	1.00
	$15.75

As an offset to this he carries in his hands and legs about a peck of first-class thorns, and in his shoes four quarts of Beaverkill mud.

Personal.

Mr. S. D. Coykendall and party arrived home yesterday, having greatly enjoyed their trip.

Mr. James Murphy and Alderman Matthew Larkin left last evening for Montreal and a tour through Canada, after Mr. Murphy has visited a son, who is at college in Montreal.

Lieutenant F. A. Smith, Twelfth Infantry U. S. A., was in town on Wednesday, taking leave of his friends previous to starting to join his regiment. He leaves for San Francisco on the 15th, having orders to report at headquarters on Angel Island, San Francisco harbor, on the 30th. He carried with him many warm wishes for his welfare and a rapid rise in rank.

Rev. E. D. Ledyard and family will reach home by the Mary Powell this evening. We are pleased to learn that the reverend gentleman's health has been much improved by his cessation from pastoral labor.

New Railroad.

Rumors have been rife for several days that a corpse of engineers were engaged in surveying a route for a railroad which was to pass through our village. On Wednesday evening last the engineers arrived here, and are now laying out the route. This road is intended as a branch of the Wallkill Valley and is to run into Albany. We learn that the route thus far selected is one that is easily placed in order should it be decided to build it. It passes through this village a short distance west of the toll gate. This makes the sixth survey that different companies have made in this place, and one road only has thus far been built. Whether this new survey will amount to anything or not we cannot tell. One thing is certain, a railroad along the west side of the Hudson would be a good paying one. Only stop this blarneying and go to work and build the road. We would like to see the project assume a definite shape.—Coeymans Herald.

The Schoonmaker-Cooper Case.

The examination in the great county Counsel Fees' suit was continued yesterday at the Court House. The examination was conducted by Peter Cantine on the part of the Board of Supervisors, and Charles A. Fowler for Messrs. Schoonmaker and Cooper.

MARIUS SCHOONMAKER re-called and examined by Mr. Fowler, testified: There was a discrepancy between the men put in under the July call of 1864 as shown by the books of the Provost Marshal here and the number credited at the Adjutant General's office in Albany. The official statement from the office of the Provost Marshal shows that the number put in under the call of July, 1864, was 1,947; under the call of December 18, 1864, 829, making in the aggregate 2,786. The official statement in the Adjutant General's office shows the whole number of men put in at 2,554, making a difference of 232. I attended the Commission of Appeals in March. I attended the Sullivan Circuit in February, and returned from that Circuit the day our motion was made in Albany. That Circuit was held after I was discharged by the Board. I attended the Delaware Circuit in December. I had one case at the Delaware Circuit that I expected to try, two in the calendar. It was a case that had been to the Court of Appeals.

Mr. Moak offered in evidence some resolutions of the Board of Supervisors.

Cross-Examination.—I made no examination myself in either the Adjutant General's office or the Provost Marshal's office; I did not obtain this information from the Treasurer's office. I do not know the fact that the men put in the navy were not credited at the Adjutant General's office; I did not investigate to see how that discrepancy arose; I did not try to find out as to particular towns; these discrepancies arose under the calls of July and December, 1864; I do not know whether those put in the last day of the war were credited at the Adjutant General's office; I suppose there might be a good many supposable cases.

Question—You cannot say whether that discrepancy is the result of any fraud or not.

Answer—No, sir.

I knew nothing of the sickness of Charles Brodhead at the time of the investigation until we commenced the investigation. Upon examining a paper the witness proceeded:

That is an extract from the books in the Treasurer's office; that was taken from the books. It was made from the regular bond book; they have a book of the old issue of bonds there. I saw the resolution; notwithstanding the report of the committee relating to a settlement for old bonds in the hands of Supervisors, I assumed from the facts I ascertained there had not been a proper settlement. I ascertained the fact that the only settlement made with the Finance Committee was that the Supervisors would give a certificate or memoranda showing the number of men they had put in but no memoranda as to moneys paid to those men. I ascertained these facts from Mr. Brodhead; I do not recollect whether I ascertained it from any one else or not; he was a member of the Finance Committee; he was Deputy County Treasurer at the time; I did not ascertain the fact from any other person; I made no inquiry of any one else; Brodhead showed me some papers upon which some settlements had been made; not all the papers; I do not recollect that Mr. Brodhead informed me that the Finance Committee had given to each of the Supervisors a certificate that they had accounted in full for bonds; I suppose they had; I do not recollect whether I saw a full settlement with any of the Supervisors or not; I did not see a statement of how many men any Supervisor had put in; I do not know of my own knowledge whether any Supervisor had or had not paid the full bounty or not; I had information that some of the Supervisors had made contracts to have men put in much below the bounty allowed and they were put in under that contract, consequently the Supervisors got the benefit of the surplus. During that time I believe the bonds were selling considerably below par value. I did not suppose that the Board of Supervisors could settle with themselves through the Finance Committee; my idea was that they could only charge the county what the men had cost them that they put in. There was hand money paid under the call of December, 1865—money paid to the person procuring the recruit; it is charged independently of the bounty; they charge some $100,000 odd hand money.

The information that the First National Bank of Rondout deducted 3½ per cent. from the face of the bonds was not entered in the bond book. I saw some memoranda of Mr. Brodhead's and received the information also from general statements made by him. There was nothing under the signature of Mr. Bray that showed that he had received 3½ per cent. commission. I saw a memoranda of Brodhead's which was in the form of a bank book; I do not recollect that I saw the real bank book. I do not know as I can give the entries. I made out a statement of how much Brodhead received from the bank and how many bonds went to the bank. I do not know where the statement is; I have not looked for it; I made out two or three statements; I made out the statement from information that Mr. Brodhead furnished.

Q. If it should turn out that Mr. Bray received nearly all those bonds at Mr. Brodhead's office in Kingston and at the time he received say $10,000 of bonds, that he delivered to Brodhead his own individual check for the amount of bonds together with all the accrued interest on it—that would be a different state of facts from what Mr. Brodhead informed you?

A. Yes; I do not understand the fact to be so.

Q. If it should turn out that that was really the fact?

A. That is a very different state of facts. That upon the face of it would appear to be an individual transaction. I never asked the bank for a statement of the account between them and Mr. Brodhead of new bonds sold by that bank, nor any officer of it. The only evidence I have is Mr. Brodhead's statement and his memoranda; memoranda of his own. A considerable amount of the claim against the bank was for accrued interest; this book I refer to was merely a memoranda book; I did not ascertain that bonds had been sold through C. D. Bruyn, on which accrued interest had not been allowed to the county; the only information which he gave me of commissions allowed was through Mr. Bray of the First National Bank of Rondout; the bond book did not give the dates of the sales of bonds to the bank; I think the most of them were sold in 1871. The book was a small one, something like a bank pass book, if I recollect right; I do not recollect whether all the entries were in Brodhead's handwriting or not. I rather think they were, though. At the time I was in the investigating committee there was a large book in which there were several entries, but I have not seen that book since that time; I presume Mr. Brodhead has the memorandum book; I might have had it two or three days.

Q.—In looking over that book or any other books of Mr. Brodhead did you ever see an entry in substance or effect that he had paid $1,500 or any other amount for the purpose of getting the new bond law passed?

A.—I have no recollection of it; I may have seen it, or may not. Mr. Schoonmaker then testified that he had discovered a portion of his brief in the Supervisors vs. Brodhead case, and testified as to the number of circuits held in Ulster each year. I suppose the $27,000 mortgage was given back at the same time the deed was given to Mr. Coykendall; I do not know. There was a first mortgage given by the R. & O. R. R. for $2,000,000 to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company; I do not recollect whether the deed to Coykendall was recorded previous to the time of the execution of that mortgage. I understand there is a claim that the $2,000,000 mortgage covers this land covered by the $27,000 mortgage. I do not know as I understand that the suit of foreclosure against the Railroad Company, Mr. Brill and others was begun at the time I tried this suit against Mr. Brodhead; I do not recollect about it.

Q.—If it had been commenced against Mr. Brill at that time, you would be apt to know?

A.—Probably should. Mr. Cooper has talked with me in relation to that suit; I understand he is Mr. Brill's attorney in the suit; I think I have read a copy of the complaint in that case; I do not know when the papers were served in the suit; there was no evidence before Referee Scott that this suit was pending; nor that the Rondout & Oswego Railroad company had commenced a suit for the foreclosure of the $27,000 mortgage; I knew a suit of that kind had been commenced, and that Mr. Bernard was attorney for plaintiff. My understanding was that the case had been commenced, but I understood it had been abandoned; I think I discovered that that suit was pending before the trial before Mr. Scott, but I do not know; I made no inquiry of Mr. Bernard to know whether the suit had been discontinued.

The Civil Damage Law in Ulster.

'Squire Chipp has the honor of having tried in his court the first civil damage case in the county. The parties are Thomas Delaney, plaintiff, against John M. Brinnier, defendant, and the facts are as follows: Brinnier runs a saloon on Union avenue, and on the 5th of July last the son of the plaintiff, John Delaney, aged about 20 years, drank at his place a number of glasses of beer, which with sundry other glasses taken in at other saloons on the avenue, made him very drunk. His brother tried to bring him home, but he broke loose from them and ran down the street hallooing and screeching like one of Ned. Buntline's Indians. He was afterwards found by John Deyo near home, lying in the gutter, and was taken up by Deyo and the boy's mother and carried in the house. It was also shown the son's intellect was weak, and that he occasionally had fits. The saloon-keeper was well aware of this disease, and had also been forbidden by Thomas Delaney to sell liquor to any of his family. There don't seem to have been a very great amount of damage proved, but the law says exemplary damages can be given, so we suppose the Justice is only limited by the amount asked for in the complaint, which is fifty dollars. The justice reserved his decision. The attorneys were G. Hill for plaintiff and D. W. Sparling for defendant. During the trial the room was crowded with dealers in spirits anxiously watching the case. The decision will have its effect on these men, no doubt, and do more good for the cause of temperance than a hundred speeches. We expect to see a full calendar of such cases in every court soon, and then there will be a decided decrease in the whiskey market.

A Civil Rights Case in Poughkeepsie.

The free schools of Poughkeepsie were opened for the season Monday, and right away a civil rights case sprung up. There appeared at the Fourth Ward Primary School two colored girls—Josephine Rhodes, aged fifteen, and Marietta Rhodes, aged nine years. They are the daughters of highly respectable colored people in Poughkeepsie, their father being the proprietor of a large dyeing establishment. The Principal of the school, Miss Carey, told the children they must be mistaken, that they meant the colored school in Catharine street. They said no, and insisted upon remaining, and did remain until noon. In the meantime Miss Carey visited one of the Board of Education and asked his opinion of the matter. He told her that the law allowed no distinction, and if the colored people asked admission to the schools supported by common tax they must be received. The teacher returned and informed Josephine, the eldest girl, that she was too far advanced to enter that school (she is quite well up in her studies,) but could go to the Second Ward Grammar School, and that Marietta could stay. After dinner Marietta went back and stayed about an hour, when she returned home crying, saying that the teacher had given her books back to her, and sent her home. Mr. Rhodes, her father, at once called upon Mr. Leonard B. Sackett, one of the members of the Board, in relation to the matter. Mr. Sackett didn't seem to want to take hold of it, and sent Mr. Rhodes to the Committee on the Fourth Ward School. Up to six o'clock Monday night, however, no decision had been reached, and a special meeting of the Board of Education will be called. Judge Eldridge, President of the Board, entertains the opinion that the city is one school district, and that when the Board provided a separate school for colored children, it fulfilled the letter of the law. Others, however, say that does not meet the spirit of the law. Meanwhile Mr. Rhodes' children will refrain from attempting to enter any of the free schools until the Board reaches a decision. The Board, if the law is correctly read, has no business whatever with the matter, so far as the "color" of the children is concerned.

A Reporter Interviewed.

We went over to Rhinecliff yesterday and there we met "Romeo"—and we are always most as glad to meet him as we used to be to eat the "grub" he cooked during the campaigning days of the old "B Company, 20th Regiment, N. Y. S. M." When we landed from the Lark, Romeo, as big as ever, but not so big as he is good-natured and obliging, tipped us a sly wink, and leading the way to an angle of the steamboat wharf, where the spring piles didn't shed as much of a shade as we would have liked had we ordered it, he remarked, "you're a newspaper man, an I want t'know f'you know that little bugle-eyed, punch-bellied, windy little cuss that comes up here now and agin from P'keepsie?" We ventured the suggestion we didn't think we did, but as the description was rather vague we thought, if Romeo would descend to details, we might possibly form a conjecture as to whom he referred. "Oh, well, he's a hungry cuss; now he can ask more questions 'bout nothin'—jest tryin' to found out somethin' you know?—than a drill sergeant can give orders to an awkward squad. I've heard folks call him George; and then agin I've heard 'em call him David, an when I first see what pryin' ways he had, an two names, an always so thick with the railroad and steamboat folks I thought he was a thief, and I'd keep my eye on him, but I've found out he's a newspaper man a lookin' for news, so when he comes up here I always have somethin' for him, and he bites like a gudgeon. Did you see Wednesday's Poughkeepsie Eagle?" We pleaded ignorance as to the contents of that enterprising (?) sheet, when our member of the house of Capulet continued, "well, he was up here t'other day an' he didn't get much but drinks an' sich like, so I thought I'd help him out, an' when the boat come I sung out 'this way for the Chauncey Vibbard, the 'co-genial paradox of the Hudson!' and you ought'er seen him scribble that down on a old envelope. So he come up agin yesterday, and he kinder prowled 'round asking questions and smellin' about, an' he didn't seem very chipper when the boat come along, so I though't I'd give him 'nother lift, an' I sung out, 'this way for the great practical oblivion of the North river,' and 'fore he went for 'the great practical oblivion' he went for that same old yaller envelope, and after he had scratched it down he come up an' shook hands good-bye with me, and I'll be —— if both them expressions of mine ain't in that Poughkeepsie Eagle this morning with the information I can have room at Dr. Cleveland's hotel whenever I want it. Well, all right; when I want it that little Davids' hair 'll be cut closer than it is now an' his waistcoat 'll be a heap snugger'n 'tis now. Here comes the train an' the up boat—goin' to take the train, eh? well, don't say nothin' 'bout this, you know!"

First Shipment.

OUR FREE PARLIAMENT.

Dead Heads vs. Sore Heads.

Some one, who is cautious enough to conceal his name from the public, appears in your issue of yesterday with an article entitled, "Half Dead Heads," the object of which is to ridicule the clergy in general, and those in particular who are guilty of accepting half-fare tickets from the railroads. The writer does not mention his own "status" in society, but from the fact that he calls the clergy his brethren, I infer he is either a minister himself, or a church member; and from the fact that he despises the gift of a half-fare ticket, I infer he is either better off than ministers in general, or else he has never had a half-fare ticket offered him.

I am very strongly inclined to the opinion that he belongs to that class who have been overlooked in the distribution of the "sweet boons." There are many who preach just enough to claim all the immunitees and privileges of ministers, but whose lives are mainly devoted to some secular employment. Such the officers of the railroad have not seen fit to honor with half-fare tickets. They are limited to those who preach the gospel as their chief or only profession, whose lives are given to the public, and not unfrequently sacrificed for the public good. The unknown writer puts a false gloss upon the subject. He would argue that the privileges and favors granted to ministers proceed upon the supposition that they are only half men. Indeed he says they have always "held an humble status in society when measured by the simple virtue of manliness." I deny it. They have been more than peers to the business part of society in the virtue of manliness; they have been patterns. Whether manliness is a simple virtue I know not. I judge it however to be a compound virtue, one part of which is to treat all classes of society with respect. If he means by manliness independence, they have enough of that. If he means bravado, they are not a match perhaps for some, but they are satisfied with being simply brave.

Again, he would have his readers believe that the gift of half-fare tickets, as well as discounts at stores, etc., if not from lack of manliness is on account of their poverty only. I deny this also. Not that ministers as a class are above the reach of want, for it is proverbial that they are of all workmen the most scantily rewarded in worldly things. But I claim a higher motive in the public mind for granting this class of society extra privileges. It is out of respect to their calling. No other men save ministers are commissioned of Heaven to their work. To them is committed the work of saving souls and reforming the wrongs of our social economy. Because of their presence in society as well as that they are most miserably requited for their work the public feeling is in favor of granting them certain perquisites which are not common to everybody. What society would become without the bible and without the living teacher to enforce it, it is impossible to conjecture. Neither can business men, whether railroad companies or what not, presume to tell how frail a tenure they would hold on their wealth if society rid of its religious teachers should be left to form its own character. So we see a great deal is owed to the minister of righteousness. In fact the real cause for dissatisfaction is not that half-tickets are given to the clergy but that they do not give them free passes. At least if they are required to pay half-fare abolish that most cruel practice of making them personally responsible for all accidents to themselves and losses to their property while traveling. If you mean to give a man a thing do it in such a way as not to make the blessing a curse.

He tells us that "he who after reflection remains a half-dead-head, wears the visible chains of servitude, as mean as it is destructive of all true manliness and power." This would be true if the boon were considered a sort of hush money to shut the lips of the clergy against the abuses of railroad corporations. It would be true if it were considered a bribe to procure the influence of the clergy in favor of railroad measures. But as it is neither I fail to see that a half-dead-head becomes in any way a servant of the railroad company. He receives his certificate thankfully, yet never considers it a personal favor, but a respect shown to his calling. I trust there is manliness enough to be found among ministers to reject any and all gifts that would abridge their freedom of speech or make them menial servants to an earthly power.

ANOTHER ARTICLE OF COMMON HOUSEHOLD USE SUPERSEDED.—Associated with the earlier recollections of a great many men and women is the memory of the Bath brick and emery stone wherewith the knives and forks, and pans and kettles, and other kitchen articles were at stated times "scoured up." That primitive mode prevails to-day in thousands of families who have never used Sapolio. But once let Sapolio be used for this purpose and that housewife never wants Bath brick or emery stone any more. Sapolio not only scours off all rust and tarnish; it brightens, bestows a polish as brilliant as new, and does it in one tenth the time required by any other substance. Sold everywhere. Housekeepers, try it.

Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil is clean, sweet and pleasant to use, and cures headache, toothache, ague in the face and jaws, earache, sore eyes, erysipelas, rheumatic pains, cramps, cold in the head, sore throat, &c. Try it, reader. Sold by R. Deyo and all druggists in Rondout and Kingston.

A CLERGYMAN writing to a friend says, "My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed. I have discovered the 'fountain of health' on this side of the Atlantic. Three bottles of Peruvian Syrup have rescued me from the pangs of the fiend Dyspepsia." Dyspeptics should drink from this fountain.

AUTUMN IS AT THE DOOR!

THE FALL SEWING MUST BE COMMENCED?

Are You Properly Prepared?

We cannot offer you much in way of STITCHES, but are on hand to help you efficiently as possible by furnishing the

for outfits for your girls, clothing for your boys and all the various articles demanded for family comfort, housekeeping conveniences and the pleasant equipment of home.

Our plans for the fall are:

To. Keep a Better Stock

Than usual, to push our trade in handsome and substantial goods as rapidly as demand will justify, and to stand fast by the honored principle that has made our store popular and our business successful, viz.:

ONE PRICE TO ALL

And the fair truth as to quality of what we sell.

At the opening of the fall season we take occasion to correct some evident misapprehension as to our style of TRUSTING. We are not disposed to make

"CAST IRON RULES"

as to trade made by any of our well-known customers, and it is our wish and our interest to be obliging to all, but we MUST be understood as positively determined

NOT TO DO A CREDIT BUSINESS!

Such of our reliable customers as find the usual Thirty days a convenience, are entirely welcome to the time, if payment is promptly made, but we make no offer of running accounts and cannot consent to do anything but a strictly

CASH BUSINESS.

This is simply just to our trade and aside from convenience to ourselves, the maintenance of the principle is of real importance to our customers, for we cannot sell goods at the very close margins we now make if our profits are to be cut down by losses sure to come with any general credit trade.

one of the most desirable Tonics and Cathartics in the world. They are intended strictly as a

only to be used as a medicine, and always according to directions.

They are the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. They act upon a diseased liver, and stimulate to such a degree that a healthy action is at once brought about. As a remedy to which Women are especially subject it is superseding every other stimulant. As a Spring and Summer Tonic they have no equal. They are a mild and gentle Purgative as well as Tonic. They Purify the Blood. They are a splendid Appetizer. They make the weak strong. They purify and invigorate. They cure Dyspepsia, Constipation and Headache. They act as a specific in all species of disorders which undermine the bodily strength and break down the animal spirits.

KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

GRAND GIFT CONCERT

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE

Public Library of Kentucky.

12,000 Cash Gifts, $1,500,000.

—o—

Every Fifth Ticket draws a Gift.

$250,000 FOR $50.

The Fourth Grand Gift Concert, authorized by special act of the Legislature, for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky, will take place in Public Library Hall, at Louisville, Ky.,

Wednesday, December 3, 1873.

Only Sixty thousand tickets will be sold, and one-half of these are intended for the European Market, thus leaving only 40,000 for sale in the United States, where 100,000 were disposed of for the Third Concert. The tickets are divided into ten coupons or parts, and have on their back the Scheme with a full explanation of the mode of drawing.

At this concert, which will be the grandest musical display ever witnessed in this country, the unprecedented sum of divided into 12,000 cash gifts, will be distributed by lot among the ticket holders. The numbers of the tickets to be drawn from one wheel by blind children, and the gifts from another.

LIST OF GIFTS:

11,000 CASH GIFTS	50 each	550,000

TOTAL, 12,000 GIFTS, ALL CASH, amounting to $1,500,000

The distribution will be positive, whether all the tickets are sold or not, and the 12,000 gifts all paid in proportion to the tickets sold—all unsold tickets being destroyed as at the First and Second Concerts, and not represented in the drawing.

PRICE OF TICKETS:

Whole tickets, $50.00; Halves, $25.00; Tenths, or each coupon, $5.00; Eleven Whole Tickets for $500.00; 22½ Tickets for $1,000.00; 113 Whole Tickets for $5,000.00; 227 Whole Tickets for $10,000.00.—No discount on less than $500.00 worth of Tickets at a time.

The unparalleled success of the Third Gift Concert, as well as the satisfaction given by the First and Second, makes it only necessary to announce the Fourth to insure the prompt sale of every ticket. The Fourth Gift Concert will be conducted in all its details like the Third, and full particulars may be learned from circulars, which will be sent free from this office to all who apply for them.

Tickets now ready for sale and all orders accompanied by the money promptly filled. Liberal terms given to those who buy to sell again.

"It Works Like a Charm."

"Guess you're joking, mister, aint you?" said a poor, crippled man, whose joints were out of shape with Rheumatism, to one of our agents, who was telling what Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil would do. He gave him a bottle to try, and in about two weeks he writes. "Wm. Renne & Sons. I thank you for the Magic Oil your agent gave me. Its use on my poor crippled hands gave immediate relief, and some friends helped me to get some more of your Oil, which I have used freely, and now I can use my hands and limbs quite nimbly."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER

JURUBEBA

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to article ten of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article ten of the constitution be amended by adding at the end thereof an additional section as follows:

§ 9. No officer whose salary is fixed by the constitution shall receive any additional compensation.—Each of the other state officers named in the constitution shall, during his continuance in office, receive a compensation, to be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected or appointed; nor shall he receive to his use any fees or perquisites of office or other compensation.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be hosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article six of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That section eighteen of article six of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 18. The electors of the several towns shall at their annual town meeting, and in such manner as the legislature may direct, elect justices of the peace, whose term of office shall be four years. In case of an election to fill a vacancy occurring before the expiration of a full term, they shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term. Their number and classification may be regulated by law. Justices of the peace and judges or justices of inferior courts, not of record, and their clerks, may be removed after due notice and an opportunity to be heard by such courts as may be prescribed by law for causes to be assigned in the order of removal. Judicial officers of courts, not of record, in the several cities of the state having a population of not less than three hundred thousand, shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, for a term of four years, and shall be subject to removal after due notice and an opportunity of being heard by such courts as may be prescribed by law for causes to be assigned in the order of removal. All other judicial officers in cities, whose election is not otherwise provided for in this article, shall be chosen by the electors of cities or appointed by some local authorities thereof.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election for senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to the constitution relative to funding the canal and general fund debts now charged on the canals.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the following amendment to the constitution be proposed for adoption to the people of the state, viz.:

ARTICLE—.

The commissioners of the canal fund shall borrow, on the credit of the state, such sums as may be necessary for paying the canal and general fund debts now charged on the canals, as the same shall fall due, by the issue and sale of bonds, or certificates of stock, having forty years to run from their date, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, for the payment of the principal whereof at maturity a sinking fund of one per cent per annum shall be established, and the tolls of the canals shall be fixed from time to time by the canal board at rates sufficing, as near as may be, to provide only for said sinking fund the interest on the debt so created, the expenses of collection, superintendence and keeping the canals in repair; and the contribution so created for said sinking fund shall be invested annually by the comptroller in the bonds or certificates of stock authorized by this article, or in the stocks or bonds of the state of New York or of the United States, which shall be held for the redemption and payment of the bonds or certificates herein authorized to be issued and sacredly applied to that purpose; all of said debt and interest shall be paid from the revenues of the canals, and no direct tax shall ever be levied or collected for canal purposes, either for current expenses or repairs, ordinary or extraordinary.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur) That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article twelve of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That article twelve of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

§ 1. Members of the legislature (and all officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as shall bh by law exempted), shall, before they enter on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation; "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of the state of New York, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of .... according to the best of my ability," and all such officers who shall have been chosen at any election shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the oath of affirmation above prescribed, together with the following addition thereto, as part thereof; "And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed or offered or promised to contribute, any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding of a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office, and have not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote," and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to article eight of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article eight of the constitution be amended, by amending section four thereof, so as to read as follows:

§ 4. The legislature shall, by general law, conform all charters of savings banks, or institutions for savings, to a uniformity of powers, rights and liabilities, and all charters hereafter granted for such corporations shall be made to conform to such general law, and to such amendments as may be made thereto. And no such corporation shall have any capital stock, or shall the trustees thereof, or any of them have any interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the profits of such corporation; and no director or trustee of any such bank or institution shall be interested in any loan or use of money or property of such bank or institution for savings. The legislature shall have no power to pass any act granting any special charter for banking purposes; but corporations or associations may be formed for such purposes under general laws.

And further, by adding thereto additional sections to be known as sections ten and eleven, as follows:

§ 10. Neither the credit nor the money of the state shall be given or loaned to or in aid of any association, corporation or private undertaking. This section shall not, however, prevent the legislature from making such provision for the education and support of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and juvenile delinquents, as to it may seem proper. Nor shall it apply to any fund or property now held or which may hereafter be held by the state for educational purposes.

§ 11. No county, city, town, or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit, to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become, directly or indirectly, the owner of stock in or bonds of any association or corporation, nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness, except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provisions for the aid or support of its poor, as may be authorized by law.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to the constitution by adding additional articles to be as known articles fifteen and sixteen, as follows:

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. Any person holding office under the laws of this state, who, except in payment of his legal salary, fees or perquisites, shall receive or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, anything of value or of personal advantage, or the promise thereof, for performing or omitting to perform any official act, or with the express or implied understanding that his official act or omission to act is to be in any degree influenced thereby, shall be deemed guilty of a felony. This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe, if it be rejected by the officer to whom it is tendered, shall be deemed guilty of an attempt to bribe, which is hereby declared to be a felony.

§ 3. Any person charged with receiving a bribe, or with offering or promising a bribe, shall be permitted to testify in his own behalf in any civil or criminal prosecution therefor.

§ 4. Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provision of this article which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defence. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county in investigating and proving any charge of bribery, or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this state, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and their payment by the state shall be provided for by law

ARTICLE XVI.

SECTION 1. All amendments to the constitution shall be in force from and including the first day of January succeeding the election at which the same were adopted, except when otherwise provided by such amendments.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed,

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following;

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order, J. O'DONNELL. Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article two of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one and two of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of the state one year next preceding any election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to a vote of the people, provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from any election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

§ 2. No person who shall receive, expect or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager, depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or any infamous crime.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporaion, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense.

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senate only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

IS PURELY A VEGETABLE PREPARATION, composed simply of well-known ROOTS, HERBS and FRUITS, combined with other properties, which in their nature are Cathartic, Aperient, Nutritious, Diuretic, Alterative and Anti-Billious. The whole is preserved in a sufficient quantity of spirit from the SUGAR CANE to keep them in any climate, which makes the

one of the most desirable Tonics and Cathartics in the world. They are intended strictly as a

only to be used as a medicine, and always according to directions.

They are the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. They act upon a diseased liver, and stimulate to such a degree that a healthy action is at once brought about. As a remedy to which Women are especially subject it is superseding every other stimulant. As a Spring and Summer Tonic they have no equal. They are a mild and gentle Purgative as well as Tonic. They Purify the Blood. They are a splendid Appetizer. They make the weak strong. They purify and invigorate. They cure Dyspepsia, Constipation and Headache. They act as a specific in all species of disorders which undermine the bodily strength and break down the animal spirits.

KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

Woman's Glory is Her Hair.

FOURTH

GRAND GIFT CONCERT

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE

Public Library of Kentucky.

12,000 Cash Gifts, $1,500,000.

Every Fifth Ticket draws a Gift.

$250,000 FOR $50.

The Fourth Grand Gift Concert, authorized by special act of the Legislature, for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky, will take place in Public Library Hall, at Louisville, Ky.,

Wednesday, December 3, 1873.

Only Sixty thousand tickets will be sold, and one-half of these are intended for the European Market, thus leaving only 40,000 for sale in the United States, where 100,000 were disposed of for the Third Concert. The tickets are divided into ten coupons or parts, and have on their back the Scheme with a full explanation of the mode of drawing.

At this concert, which will be the grandest musical display ever witnessed in this country, the unprecedented sum of divided into 12,000 cash gifts, will be distributed by lot among the ticket holders. The numbers of the tickets to be drawn from one wheel by blind children, and the gifts from another.

LIST OF GIFTS:

ONE GRAND CASH GIFT	$250,000
ONE GRAND CASH GIFT	100,000
ONE GRAND CASH GIFT	50,000
ONE GRAND CASH GIFT	25,000
ONE GRAND CASH GIFT	17,500
10 CASH GIFTS $10,000 each	100,000
30 CASH GIFTS 5,000 each	150,000
50 CASH GIFTS 1,000 each	50,000
80 CASH GIFTS 500 each	40,000
100 CASH GIFTS 400 each	40,000
150 CASH GIFTS 300 each	45,000
250 CASH GIFTS 200 each	50,000
325 CASH GIFTS 100 each	32,500
11,000 CASH GIFTS 50 each	550,000

TOTAL, 12,000 GIFTS, ALL CASH, amounting to $1,500,000

The distribution will be positive, whether all the tickets are sold or not, and the 12,000 gifts all paid in proportion to the tickets sold—all unsold tickets being destroyed as at the First and Second Concerts, and not represented in the drawing.

PRICE OF TICKETS:

Whole tickets, $50.00; Halves, $25.00; Tenths, or each coupon, $5.00; Eleven Whole Tickets for $500.00; 22½ Tickets for $1,000.00; 113 Whole Tickets for $5,000.00; 227 Whole Tickets for $10,000.00.—No discount on less than $500.00 worth of Tickets at a time.

The unparalleled success of the Third Gift Concert, as well as the satisfaction given by the First and Second, makes it only necessary to announce the Fourth to insure the prompt sale of every ticket. The Fourth Gift Concert will be conducted in all its details like the Third, and full particulars may be learned from circulars, which will be sent free from this office to all who apply for them.

Tickets now ready for sale and all orders accompanied by the money promptly filled. Liberal terms given to those who buy to sell again.

Use Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil.

"It Works Like a Charm."

"Guess you're joking, mister, aint you?" said a poor, crippled man, whose joints were out of shape with Rheumatism, to one of our agents, who was telling what Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil would do. He gave him a bottle to try, and in about two weeks he writes. "Wm. Renne & Sons. I thank you for the Magic Oil your agent gave me. Its use on my poor crippled hands gave immediate relief, and some friends helped me to get some more of your Oil, which I have used freely, and now I can use my hands and limbs quite nimbly."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER

JURUBEBA

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article ten of the constitution be amended by adding at the end thereof an additional section as follows:

§ 9. No officer whose salary is fixed by the constitution shall receive any additional compensation.—Each of the other state officers named in the constitution shall, during his continuance in office, receive a compensation, to be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected or appointed; nor shall he receive to his use any fees or perquisites of office or other compensation.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be hosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article six of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That section eighteen of article six of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows;

§ 18. The electors of the several towns shall at their annual town meeting, and in such manner as the legislature may direct, elect justices of the peace, whose term of office shall be four years. In case of an election to fill a vacancy occurring before the expiration of a full term, they shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term. Their number and classification may be regulated by law. Justices of the peace and judges or justices of inferior courts, not of record, and their clerks, may be removed after due notice and an opportunity to be heard by such courts as may be prescribed by law for causes to be assigned in the order of removal. Judicial officers of courts, not of record, in the several cities of the state having a population of not less than three hundred thousand, shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, for a term of four years, and shall be subject to removal after due notice and an opportunity of being heard by such courts as may be prescribed by law for causes to be assigned in the order of removal. All other judicial officers in cities, whose election is not otherwise provided for in this article, shall be chosen by the electors of cities or appointed by some local authorities thereof.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election for senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to the constitution relative to funding the canal and general fund debts now charged on the canals.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the following amendment to the constitution be proposed for adoption to the people of the state, viz.:

ARTICLE—.

The commissioners of the canal fund shall borrow, on the credit of the state, such sums as may be necessary for paying the canal and general fund debts now charged on the canals, as the same shall fall due, by the issue and sale of bonds, or certificates of stock, having forty years to run from their date, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, for the payment of the principal whereof at maturity a sinking fund of one per cent per annum shall be established, and the tolls of the canals shall be fixed from time to time by the canal board at rates sufficing, as near as may be, to provide only for said sinking fund the interest on the debt so created, the expenses of collection, superintendence and keeping the canals in repair; and the contribution so created for said sinking fund shall be invested annually by the comptroller in the bonds or certificates of stock authorized by this article, or in the stocks or bonds of the state of New York or of the United States, which shall be held for the redemption and payment of the bonds or certificates herein authorized to be issued and sacredly applied to that purpose; all of said debt and interest shall be paid from the revenues of the canals, and no direct tax shall ever be levied or collected for canal purposes, either for current expenses or repairs, ordinary or extraordinary.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur) That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 1, 1873.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed.
By order of the senate,
CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 28, 1873.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed.
By order of the assembly,
JOHN O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article twelve of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur], That article twelve of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

§ 1. Members of the legislature (and all officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as shall be by law exempted), shall, before they enter on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of the state of New York, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of ______ according to the best of my ability," and all such officers who shall have been chosen at any election shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the oath of affirmation above prescribed, together with the following addition thereto, as part thereof; "And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed or offered or promised to contribute, any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding of a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office, and have not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote," and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 22, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to article eight of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article eight of the constitution be amended, by amending section four thereof, so as to read as follows:

§ 4. The legislature shall, by general law, conform all charters of savings banks, or institutions for savings, to a uniformity of powers, rights and liabilities, and all charters hereafter granted for such corporations shall be made to conform to such general law, and to such amendments as may be made thereto. And no such corporation shall have any capital stock, or shall the trustees thereof, or any of them have any interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the profits of such corporation; and no director or trustee of any such bank or institution shall be interested in any loan or use of money or property of such bank or institution for savings. The legislature shall have no power to pass any act granting any special charter for banking purposes; but corporations or associations may be formed for such purposes under general laws.

And further, by adding thereto additional sections to be known as sections ten and eleven, as follows:

§ 10. Neither the credit nor the money of the state shall be given or loaned to or in aid of any association, corporation or private undertaking. This section shall not, however, prevent the legislature from making such provision for the education and support of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and juvenile delinquents, as to it may seem proper. Nor shall it apply to any fund or property now held or which may hereafter be held by the state for educational purposes.

§ 11. No county, city, town, or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit, to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become, directly or indirectly, the owner of stock in or bonds of any association or corporation, nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness, except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provisions for the aid or support of its poor, as may be authorized by law.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 22, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order, J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to the constitution by adding additional articles to be as known articles fifteen and sixteen, as follows:

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. Any person holding office under the laws of this state, who, except in payment of his legal salary, fees or perquisites, shall receive or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, anything of value or of personal advantage, or the promise thereof, for performing or omitting to perform any official act, or with the express or implied understanding that his official act or omission to act is to be in any degree influenced thereby, shall be deemed guilty of a felony. This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe, if it be rejected by the officer to whom it is tendered, shall be deemed guilty of an attempt to bribe, which is hereby declared to be a felony.

§ 3. Any person charged with receiving a bribe, or with offering or promising a bribe, shall be permitted to testify in his own behalf in any civil or criminal prosecution therefor.

§ 4. Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provision of this article which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defence. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county in investigating and proving any charge of bribery, or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this state, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and their payment by the state shall be provided for by law

ARTICLE XVI.

SECTION 1. All amendments to the constitution shall be in force from and including the first day of January succeeding the election at which the same were adopted, except when otherwise provided by such amendments.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed,

CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 29, 1873. The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following;

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution it be published for three months previous to the time of such election

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

By order, J. O'DONNELL. Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article two of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one and two of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of the state one year next preceding any election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to a vote of the people, provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from any election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

§ 2. No person who shall receive, expect or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager, depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing, as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or any infamous crime

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK. In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CHAS. R. DAYTON. Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK. In Assembly, May 29, 1873. The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (If the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense.

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senate only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 29, 1873. The foregoing resolutions were duly passed,
